JULY 28 OR AUGUST 11 PROBABLE ELECTION DATES

Political Pot Is Beginning To Boil In Interesting Way

Liberals Stand By Open Nominating Convention Policy For Victoria and Hold Rousing Meeting; Capt. Wasson Breaks With Dickie To Lead Soldier-Labor Ticket In Nanaimo; Hospitals Separate Precincts.

Steam began to curl up from the political pot to-day.

Members of the Victoria Liberal Association at a crowded meeting which packed every foot of the hall at Liberal headquarters last night, decided, under President W. Kinsman, for a wide-open nominating convention to choose a candidate for the coming federal election.

The amendment to the constitution moved by A. H. Cox and seconded by C. Ashorn, to provide for a nominating convention made up of a limited number of delegates chosen from each ward, was thrown out with only one in favor of it.

LIBERAL CHOICE IN FRASER VALLEY; G. G. McGEER, K.C.

OPEN TO ALL LIBERALS.

Alderman W. T. Straith and J. Rutledge sponsored the resolution which went through to make the coming Liberal nominating convention open to all Liberals in Victoria, the only stipulation being that they sign at the door the usual pledge to support the candidate chosen. Plans of the convention have been left to the central executive. In the meantime, it was announced that a nominating committee consisting of President Kinsman, Mrs. Young, Fred White, A. H. Cox and E. R. Heath is interviewing prospective candidates.

Among the speakers at the meeting last night were H. H. Shandley, Fred McGeer, Mrs. Stuart Henderson, J. J. V. Spruit, Mr. Ashorn, William Marchant, Carew Martin, Charles R. Bishop and D. R. Bremner.

NO OPPOSE DICKIE.

Protesting against C. H. Dickie, present Conservative member, as being under the domination of the big interests of the country and falling in with the viewpoint of the ordinary man, Capt. Thomas Wasson, veteran of the South African and Great wars, director of the Second C.M.R. cadet fund, a pioneer of the Klondike gold rush, and active in logging, fishing and mining developments on this island, announced himself as a soldier-labor candidate in the Nanaimo riding. Capt. Wasson has been a resident of the district for thirty years. His nomination papers have already been signed by a group of business men and retired military men who have broken away from the support of Mr. Dickie. Capt. Wasson left last night on the Ss. Princess Maquinn for the West Coast to open his campaign.

CONSERVATIVE TROUBLE IN WARD THREE.

Conservative ward organizations in Victoria are meeting almost nightly picking delegates to attend the party nominating convention, at which it is expected that D. B. Plunkett, M.P., will again be chosen.

CRISIS FOR BRITISH LABOR GOVERNMENT

Ramsay MacDonald Will Ask For Confidence Vote On Unemployment; May Go To Country On Question If Vote Is Rejected.

London, May 22.—The ministry of Rt. Hon. J. Ramsay MacDonald, second Labor Government in the history of Great Britain, girded itself to-day for what was hailed as a battle for its existence.

It was expected at a meeting of the parliamentary Labor Party this evening the Premier will ask for a vote of confidence in the ministry's unemployment programme. Failing to achieve it, he probably will give notice of asking the King to dissolve Parliament and will take the question to the country.

R-100 TAKES TRIAL TRIP

Sustains Some Damage But Continues Flight to London Expected in Canada Some Time After June 1

Associated Press

Sedford, England, May 22.—When the British dirigible R-100 circled over this town this afternoon in a heavy rain, after her prolonged flight since yesterday she appeared to have been damaged at the extreme end behind the elevating and rudder planes.

She moved off toward London, however.

The R-100 is taking a training flight in preparation for a trip to Canada.

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Ont., May 22.—The giant British airship R-100 will not arrive in Canada on completion of her initial trans-Atlantic flight prior to June 1, she may be expected, however, any day after that date, weather conditions permitting, according to official advice received to-day by Col. J. L. Heston, Minister of National Defence.

The R-100 is to take off from Cardington, Eng., for a flight along the great circle route over Greenland, for the St. Hubert's mooring mast near Montreal.

NEW ZEALAND TRADE ENVOY IS NOW HERE

J. W. Collins, First Commissioner to Canada, Arrives From Antipodes

Will Seek to Balance Trade Scale Between N.Z. and Canada

J. W. Collins, first New Zealand trade commissioner to Canada and the United States, arrived here to-day from the Southern Dominion, having traveled by way of San Francisco and Seattle.

The commissioner, accompanied by Mrs. Collins, was met at the boat by representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, the local branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and Alderman James Adam, who became acquainted with Mr. Collins on his trip to New Zealand with the Canadian soccer team some years ago.

This afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, the commissioner was received by Premier Tomin, with whom he was in conference for some time on matters pertaining to trade relations between this province and New Zealand.

His appointment as trade commissioner to Canada and the United States was the nucleus of a service to be established by the New Zealand Government in several countries of the world, and following his appointment, a trade commissioner to Australia was named by the New Zealand administration.

Lou Gehrig followed the example of his more illustrious teammate by hitting a homer with the bases full in the first inning of the second game and another in the fourth with one on base. The blows brought his total to nine.

Africa Claims Right To Secede From Empire

Cape Town, Union of South Africa, May 22.—The South African Assembly to-day passed a motion affirming South Africa's right to secede from the British Empire if it so desired.

The vote was taken following a speech by Premier Hertzog, who replied to a speech made by General Smuts Tuesday, when the latter declared it would be impossible for South Africa to secede from the British Commonwealth without full consent of all other Dominions and the British Parliament.

The Premier to-day said in his speech that the right of secession was the very cornerstone of their independence and freedom. "If we want to secede, there is only one thing necessary. That is for Parliament to pass a law to that effect."

French Troops to Leave Rhine Clear Within Ten Days

Army of Occupation Loads Military Equipment On Railroad Trucks and Cars As Speedy Evacuation Begins.

Mayence, Germany, May 22.—The French army of occupation to-day appeared to have been transformed into one big moving and hauling concern.

Apparently the military authorities are convinced that speedy evacuation of the Rhineland is desired by the home government as well as the Germans. As a result, even the daily drill of the soldiers has been given up. And while "aquada blue" is forgotten, the men in horizon blue are having military equipment on railroad cars and trucks for the homeward trip to France.

The indications are that the evacuation will be virtually free of troops in ten days. Bingen was evacuated yesterday and Ludwigshafen is to be cleared May 28. Other occupied towns will be left as rapidly as the railroads are able to handle materials and men.

The German press is not giving prominence to the homeward movement, so far being content with brief news paragraphs.

Princess Mary to Be Colonel-in-Chief Of Canadian Scottish

Princess Mary is to be the Colonel-in-Chief of the Canadian Scottish Regiment of Victoria, and the appointment will be gazetted shortly, according to an official notification received this morning by Lieut.-Col. D. B. Martyn, D.S.O., M.C., commanding the First Battalion here.

The acceptance by the King's daughter of the rank of Colonel-in-Chief was announced through the office of the Secretary of State for External Affairs of Canada, Princess Mary's acceptance being stated to have the approval of the King.

The honor conferred upon the Canadian Scottish Regiment is rare in Canada. The Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry and the Princess Louise's Dragoons of Ottawa being the only other regiments which have a woman of the royal family as Colonel-in-Chief.

BOYS AND GIRLS TROOP SAFELY FROM MILWAUKEE FIRE

Milwaukee, May 22.—Nearly 200 small boys and twenty-six girls at St. Ann's orphanage, of the St. Francis order, escaped from the fire in their night clothes shortly after 1 a.m. to-day as fire destroyed the $350,000 building.

Though the fire broke out in the dead of night when all were asleep, none was killed or injured.

WORKMEN TRAPPED IN STEEL AVALANCHE

New York, May 22.—Two men were known to have been killed and the bodies of several others were believed buried under tons of steel in the collapse to-day for a four-story building under construction at fifty-first Street and Eleventh Avenue, near the Hudson River waterfront.

LEADING ELECTION IN PENNSYLVANIA; GIFFORD PINCHOT

Philadelphia, May 22.—With 108 districts missing in unofficial returns from Tuesday's primary, Gifford Pinchot had a lead of 11,345 over Francis Shunk Brown for the Republican nomination for governor.

The latest figures showed a reduction of a few hundred in the Pinchot plurality as a result of tabulation of all but seven districts of Allegheny County, which includes Pittsburgh, complete.

The totals of 8,998 districts out of 9,701 in the state gave Pinchot, 634,454; Brown, 613,109; and Thomas W. Phillips Jr., wet candidate, 260,929.

GREAT STEEL FIRMS UNITE

British Government Encouraged By Merger of Big Industries

By George Amberton, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent

London, May 22.—Two separate amalgamations involving some of the greatest firms engaged in the "heavy trade" in the country were announced to-day. The government was encouraged at this further progress towards nationalization of industry in the interest of greater efficiency and consequently lesser unemployment.

The two largest steel organizations in the country were united when the John Brown Company and Thomas Firth were amalgamated with joint capital of $35,000,000.

The great coal, steel and iron companies joined with a number of lesser concerns in Lancashire, with capital on the new basis approaching $30,000,000. The leading firms in this merger were the Pearson and Knowles Company, Wigan Coal and Iron Company, and Partington Steel and Iron Company.

HUNDRED DIE ON BURNING VESSEL

French Steamer With Pilgrims Aboard Catches Fire

Port Sudan, Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, May 22.—The French steamer, Asia, with 1,500 pilgrims aboard, bound for Red Sea ports, was on fire in Jeddah Harbor to-day, and it was feared 100 lives had been lost.

The fire proved uncontrollable and the ship was abandoned. This afternoon it was impossible to approach the vessel. The pilgrims were en route to Mecca, Moslem Holy City.

(The steamship Asia, a vessel of 3,655 tons, left Marseilles April 5 and arrived at Jeddah on April 28, remaining on the Red Sea carrying pilgrims since then. Jeddah Harbor, which is on the coast of the Hejaz, is two miles in length and about half a mile at its greatest breadth.)

FENTON SPEAKS HERE TUESDAY

Customs Minister For Australia To Address Canadian Club; More Trade Wanted

With "Australian Affairs" as his topic, Hon. J. E. Fenton, Minister of Customs for the Commonwealth of Australia, will address members of the Canadian Club in the Empress Hotel next Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock. Mr. Fenton represented his government at the Five Power Naval Conference in London, and is on his way home. During his address here he is expected to deal with some phases of the naval policy.

While passing through Winnipeg yesterday, the minister said: "A large trade is possible between Canada and Australia, who hold nearly half the territory of the British Empire, and this trade can be developed with beneficial results to both Dominions."

Mr. Fenton also recommended that Australians and Canadians see more of each other and urged alternate delegations from both countries with the idea of cementing a closer bond between Canada and the Commonwealth.

Speaking of the naval conference, Mr. Fenton commented highly on Col. J. H. Baleson's able representation of Canada and stated that on a whole the conference had, under the circumstances, done very well.

Mr. Fenton, who is accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. W. Duffy, will spend a day at Jasper Park Lodge, Jasper National Park, before going to Vancouver, where they will arrive on May 25. He will come to this city the following day.

FEARS FOR AVIATRIX

Surebays, Java, May 22.—Miss Amy Johnson, British aviator, en route from England to Australia, passed over Bina at 11:30 a.m. on her way from here to Atambora on the northwest coast of Timor.

Batavia, Java, May 22.—Uneasiness was felt here to-night for Miss Amy Johnson, the British girl who is flying to Australia, as nothing had been heard from her since she passed Bina shortly before noon.

She was headed for Atambora, on the island of Timor, but the wireless station at Keopang on the same island had received no word of her at 11 o'clock p.m. Java time.

SWEDEN POPULATION IS SET AT 6,000,000

Stockholm, May 22.—Sweden has finished a census and the figure shows the population is 6,120,000. During 1929 the number increased 14,000, which is considered an exceptionally low figure.

Of the major cities Stockholm showed the largest gain and will probably have more than 1,000,000 souls by the end of the year.

Alaska Prospector Charters Seaplane To Reach Sick Wife

William Strong Travels From Juneau, Alaska, to Victoria In Seven Hours and Fifteen Minutes Aboard Seaplane Taku of Alaska-Washington Airways In Charge of Pilot R. Ellis; Averages 120 Miles An Hour On Way, and Flies Through Fog and Storm; Wind Bothers Plane Here.

Racing to the bedside of his wife, who is seriously ill in St. Joseph's Hospital, William Strong, prospector of Taku, Alaska, arrived in Victoria yesterday afternoon aboard the seaplane Taku of the Alaska-Washington Airways in charge of Pilot Robert Ellis and co-pilot and mechanic, F. Hatcher. Upon arrival here Strong was rushed to the hospital by automobile. From the time he reached Juneau it took Strong just exactly seven hours and fifteen minutes flying time to get to Victoria, a distance of approximately 900 miles.

When he received word in the hills that his wife was very ill Strong immediately proceeded to Taku where he boarded a river boat for Juneau. Arriving there he chartered the Taku and the seaplane left at 3 o'clock on Wednesday morning, or 4 o'clock Victoria time.

Proceeding to Ketchikan the plane landed to take on gas and picked up three other passengers, General and Mrs. Fleming and Mr. Leadbetter. The former had been on a hunting trip to the northern country. Leaving Ketchikan the seaplane flew direct to Victoria.

Discussing the trip Pilot Ellis declared that during the 900-mile journey he flew at an altitude anywhere from 6,000 to five feet. The worst weather was experienced while flying over Dixon's Strait, where fog and a rainstorm made visibility very poor. On the entire trip the Lockheed Vega cabin monoplane averaged 120 miles an hour.

Upon arrival at Victoria Pilot Ellis found some difficulty in landing owing to the terrific wind sweeping over the city. However, after several bumps on the water he brought his plane down.

The other two planes operated by the Alaska-Washington Airways and the Alaska-Washington Airways of British Columbia were also hampered by yesterday's gale. The Juneau, in charge of Pilot Gordon MacKenzie, after arriving here yesterday afternoon from Seattle, stayed here all night and proceeded back to Seattle this morning. The Fairchild monoplane, in charge of Pilot Gordon MacKenzie, after arriving here early in the afternoon from Vancouver did not return until 5:30 o'clock, after missing one round trip.

Bob Ellis and the Taku departed at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and tomorrow morning he will leave again for Juneau where he will be stationed all summer. Ellis has been at the northern port since the middle of April and during the summer months makes special chartered trips into Sitka, Taku and other northern points. The Vega is used extensively by cannery owners for survey purposes.

MAY REOPEN LIQUOR BILL

Senate Correction Brings Possibility of Debate in Commons

Ottawa, May 22.—The Senate's amendment to the Liquor Export Act, correcting as it does an apparent misprint, is innocent enough; but it contains possibilities of reopening discussion on the whole bill. The amendment has been inscribed on the orders of the day, and ordinarily the Prime Minister would simply move the first and second readings of the amendment, asking concurrence therein by the House. However, since the amendment has been so inscribed, it is debatable, according to the rules of the House. The amendment will probably constitute part of the government business for this afternoon. If it passes, as expected, the bill will likely receive royal assent and come into operation by the first of June.

The Senate's correction substitutes the word "importation" for "exportation" in page 1, line 27, of the bill. As it now reads, the wording is "it shall be unlawful to make destined for delivery in any country into which the 'exportation' of such liquor is prohibited by law."

MOSTLY IN EAST
Mr. Collins will confine most of his work to the Eastern seaboard of Canada and the United States, although making occasional visits to the larger cities of the Pacific Coast. While in British Columbia at the present time he will get in touch with business interests in Vancouver to discuss trade matters.

Previous to his appointment, Mr. Collins was of the Department of Industries and Commerce for the New Zealand government and is considered an expert on matters relating to New Zealand industry and trade. "My Government," said the commissioner, "is greatly interested in the development of trade between Canada and New Zealand. In 1928 I visited Canada in charge of New Zealand's display at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto and at that time I could see the potential value of commerce between the two countries."

"In 1928, New Zealand's trade with Canada amounted to $2,000,000 per annum. Latest available figures for the year 1929 show that this figure had increased to $10,000,000. The trade advantage is still with Canada, however, this Dominion doing $23,000,000 worth of business with New Zealand last year."

Mr. Collins would make no suggestions regarding possible new channels for trade, but he would be content upon the recent Federal budget or its possible effect upon the interchange of products between the two countries. The tariff question is still in the air, but he would not comment upon the Canadian budget very closely yet as he cannot give his opinion on it. Moreover, he will wait until I present my credentials at Ottawa before taking up this matter," he said.

Mr. Collins declared he marveled greatly at the rapid manufacturing growth of Canada. It was one of the outstanding things of the British Empire to-day.

"We feel," he said, "that Canada, as a whole, has only had its surface scratched and that it is destined to become one of the greatest countries of the world."

Mr. Collins expressed himself as very pleased to again meet Alderman Adams and to a renewed friendship formed several years ago. With Mr. Adams, the commissioner visited the Victoria Rotary Club at luncheon on the steamer Princess Elizabeth.

Mr. Collins will be in Canada for the next three years.

OFFICE NAMED FOR IRRIGATION DISTRICTS OF B.C.

F. C. Dweil, manager of the Vernon Irrigation district, has been appointed temporary administrative officer for the various interior irrigation districts in respect to their system of works and their financing by the conservation fund.

The appointment is only of a temporary status until the adoption of the Sanford Bruns recommendations that the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council be empowered to appoint such an official. The salary is to be $400 a month.

W. F. KENNEDY HAS RESIGNED

George Heggie and W. C. Macdonald May Be North Okanagan Candidates

Vernon, B.C., May 22.—The resignation of W. F. Kennedy, member of the Legislature for North Okanagan, while not exactly a surprise, is creating considerable interest through his constituency. Rumors of his appointment to a seat on the new three-man liquor board have been current for some time. This morning Mr. Kennedy refused to discuss his resignation, other than admitting that it had been accepted and dates set for the by-election.

ZEPPELIN NEARS END OF FLIGHT

On Final Lap of Journey to Pernambuco

Pernambuco, Brazil, May 21.—A message to-night from the Island Do Noronha quoted Hugo Eckener, commander of the Graf Zeppelin, as saying the German dirigible would arrive here to-morrow morning and leave to-morrow night for Rio Janeiro. He expects to reach Rio the following morning.

Fernando Do Noronha, Brazil, May 22.—The huge dirigible Graf Zeppelin, rapidly nearing the end of her south Atlantic flight from Seville, Spain, to Pernambuco, flew over the islands of Fernando Do Noronha off the Brazilian coast at 1:40 p.m. to-day (10:40 a.m. S.A.T.).

After circling around the penal colony for fifteen minutes the Graf Zeppelin turned her nose toward the Brazilian coast 125 miles away and started on the final lap to Pernambuco.

TROOPS HELP POLICE GUARD SALT RAIDERS

Wide Difference in Figures on Injured in Dharsana Raid

Bombay, May 22.—The police and troops to-day took complete control of the Dharsana area, scene of attempted raids by Nationalists yesterday. The Nationalist headquarters announced they would make another mass raid on the Dharsana Salt Depot on Sunday. Police and troops combined to destroy a Nationalist camp at Untali, nearby.

Stronger measures were taken to prevent further raids, when a contingent of troops from Hyderabad was sent to the Dharsana Depot, hitherto noticed mainly with clubs, have been depended on.

The government issued a statement saying that 2,600 Nationalists took part in the raid on the Dharsana salt works yesterday, of whom only three or four were seriously injured in the clash with police.

But the all-India Nationalist congress asserted the total number of seriously injured was 170. Injuries received by police were limited to bruises and scratches.

SEATTLE CENSUS SHOWS 362,160

Seattle, May 22.—The Post-Intelligencer last night published an estimate of the state population as 1,350,000, of Seattle as 162,160, and of King County as 448,000. The figures, it claimed, were based on "material available" to-day.

WOMAN ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

Williams Lake, B.C., May 22.—When Charles Neel returned home for dinner Wednesday he found the body of his wife lying on her bedroom floor, the top of her head having been blown away by a shot from a 30-30 U.S. rifle, which was lying beside her body. Following investigations by Provincial Police Sergeant F. W. Callender, a coroner's jury returned a verdict of "accidental death by a rifle shot accidentally discharged." Mrs. Neel is survived by her husband and two young children.

SNOWSTORMS IN MANITOBA TO-DAY

Lower Temperatures and Gales in Saskatchewan and Alberta

Winnipeg, May 22.—Lowered temperatures and strong gales were noted in Saskatchewan and Alberta following the snow blizzard yesterday. Yesterday's snow in Alberta, considered by farmers a help to crops rather than a hindrance, is expected to have entirely disappeared by to-night, and the situation then may be taken as more serious. The continued cold weather is not, however, expected to cause serious damage except to garden plants and flowers.

Northern Manitoba experienced fairly heavy snowstorms this morning and forecasts indicate that Winnipeg may not escape a little May blizzard later in the day. Temperature here to-day was forty degrees, with the mercury likely to drop lower. Crops will at least receive plenty of moisture from the late spring touch of winter. If it does not snow it will surely rain, meteorological officials state.

COURTENAY MEET TO BACK NEILL

A. W. Neill, M.P., Will Be Re-nominated June 5 at Courtenay

(Special to The Times)
Cumberland, May 22.—At a meeting of A. W. Neill's committee in Courtenay it was decided to hold a convention in Courtenay on June 4 at 5 o'clock. Delegates will be invited from all points in the district to endorse Mr. Neill as independent candidate. Jan. L. Brown was elected permanent secretary and R. H. Hurford as campaign manager. L. A. Hanna, M.P., was present, and was very optimistic regarding Mr. Neill's chances of re-election.

The delegates have contended that Great Britain would not have this right, but Senator Swanson, Democrat, of Virginia, asked that this point be definitely cleared. Senator Johnson contended Great Britain would have the right under the language of the treaty.

UNITED STATES NAVY LEADERS SCORE TREATY

President Hoover Hopes For Ratification Before Ad-journment

Question Arises on Cruiser
Tonnage and Six-inch Ships

Washington, May 22.—President Hoover and Senate advocates of the London Naval Limitations Agreement yesterday demanded prompt action on the treaty as navy leaders continued their bombardment of the pact before two Senate committees.

Moving to quash the talk of deferring a vote on it until next session, the President informed Senator Watson, Indiana, the Republican leader, at a White House conference, he hoped for ratification before adjournment.

Chairman Borah of the Senate foreign relations committee announced he was proceeding on the assumption that the treaty would be acted upon at this session, and that he would be ready to conclude hearings by his committee to-day after hearing Rear Admiral M. J. Reeves.

Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, who was one of the United States delegates, disclosed in examination of Admiral Fringle yesterday that Australia and New Zealand had threatened not to sign the treaty if it gave the United States twenty-one eight-inch gun cruisers, on the ground it would lead Japan to build up to a point upsetting naval balance in the Pacific.

Word reached the Capitol to-day that Secretary Stimson has tentatively agreed to exchange notes with Great Britain in an attempt to clear up the disputed question of whether the British would be allowed to replace their tonnage with eight-inch cruisers instead of six-inch ships.

The delegates have contended that Great Britain would not have this right, but Senator Swanson, Democrat, of Virginia, asked that this point be definitely cleared. Senator Johnson contended Great Britain would have the right under the language of the treaty.

WAR DETESTED, SENATOR SAYS

Never Such a Wholehearted Desire For Peace, Says Hon. N. A. Belcourt

Ottawa, May 22.—During no period in the world's history was there such a confirmed detestation of war and such a wholehearted yearning for universal peace as there is to-day, Hon. N. A. Belcourt, acting government leader, declared yesterday in the Senate. The world still was staggered by the effects and the awfulness of the last war, which he referred to as the greatest of human tragedies. Speaking on Sir George Foster's motion that he draw the attention of the Senate to the progress and aims of the League of Nations in Canada, Senator Belcourt asserted that much had been accomplished during the last ten years in the substitution of an appeal to justice for an appeal to arms. The League of Nations, which had been foremost in this work, had demonstrated the possibilities of conciliation, arbitration and judicial settlement. Other speakers to take part in the debate were Hon. C. F. Beaubien, and Hon. Edward McNamee. Hon. H. S. Deland adjourned the debate.

OFFERS AID TO "BURNED OUT" EX-SOLDIERS

Cost to Canada Will Be $2,000,000 Rising to $18,000,000

Ottawa, May 22.—The bill providing for allowances for "burned out" and unemployed returned soldiers passed a special committee of the Senate yesterday. It was amended only in a matter of terminology and, accordingly, will be referred back to the House of Commons for approval before becoming law. It provides for allowances for a single man not to exceed $240 a year less the amount of his income in excess of $125 a year. In the case of a married man, the allowance shall be $480 a year, less the amount of his income in excess of $250 a year. Hon. Dr. J. H. King, Minister of Pensions, said the cost to Canada through the act will be $2,000,000 the first year, increasing according to the expectancy-of-life tables to a peak of $18,000,000 in 1937.

STRIKE TO-DAY IN JERUSALEM

Protest Against Action of British Government Barring Immigrants

Jerusalem, May 22.—A general strike of the Jewish population of Jerusalem and other large centres in Palestine in protest against suspension by the British government of the regular immigration schedule, went into effect at noon to-day. It was to last until evening. The Jewish Telegraph Agency reported that the strike was observed completely, all offices and shops closing and work ceasing. The matter arose from Jerusalem and other large cities were thronged with home-going workers. Constables were posted at all public buildings and airplanes hovered over Jerusalem, Tel Aviv and Haifa.

Nansimo, Ladysmith and Duncan being well represented. Mrs. Gunner Jacobson and Mrs. David Murray were in charge of the supper. Other arrangements were in charge of Miss N. Dwyer, Miss E. Reardon and Miss G. Murray. The regular monthly business meeting of the First Chemainus Girl Guide Association was held at the home of Mrs. Alexander Work, with eleven members present. Miss Douglas Ross was in the chair, and supplies for Guides and Brownies were ordered. SUICIDE RATE IN U.S. GROWS

Higher Last Year Than in Any Year Since 1916

New York, May 22.—The suicide rate of United States cities during 1929 reached the highest figure since 1916, or eighteen per 100,000, Frederick L. Hoffman, consulting statistician of the Prudential Insurance Company, announced last night. His statistics appear in the current issue of The Spectator, insurance publication. He drew his conclusions from tabulated results of 181 cities throughout the country. Sacramento leads with a rate of 32.8 per 100,000, he said, "and most of the Pacific Coast municipalities outrank all others in their tendency for self-destruction. The stock market collapse of last fall unquestionably had a direct bearing upon the increased suicides," he said, "although it is not as well marked as might have been expected."

HARRY THAW NOT INCLUDING ENGLAND

Plymouth, Eng., May 22.—Harry K. Thaw stopped here to-day aboard the liner Ile de France long enough to have a good look at the spot whence the pilgrims sailed for America, and then went to Havre, whence he will depart for a holiday trip in France, Austria and Switzerland. The American made no effort to go ashore and said he never had intentions of trying to land in England, which barred him two years ago as undesirable. It was reported he would have been barred to-day had he tried to land.

WHY PULLETS DON'T PAY

One significant fact in the egg market reports this spring is the marked falling off in production. Asked for the reason for this the Dominion Poultry Husbandman states that the extreme dry weather of last year was the cause. "The condition is general throughout western Canada and to a certain extent in the east," he states, "and the fact is that owing to this unusually dry season chicks last year matured as laying pullets before attaining their proper growth."

ON WEAK GROUND

campaign is over the Conservative party may announce its policy. So far it has given no indication that it is one. True, it has shown clearly that it is opposed to the British Preference; but it has no scheme of its own for altering an economic situation of which it appears to be righteously complaining. It is inconceivable that Mr. Bennett will go through an election in this state of political bankruptcy. Even at this late date he will surely offer the electors something besides platitudes. In the meantime, faithful Conservatives throughout the land, while denouncing the unscrupulous government for stealing Conservative policies, and also, strangely enough, denouncing the policy thus stolen, are following the historic tactics of a party utterly impoverished of ideas. They are assailing the government's record.

If the Conservative party were choosing weak ground upon which to walk, it could find none weaker than this. The record of the King government since 1921, like the progress of Canada under that government, has been without parallel anywhere in the British Empire. This administration is the only important government in the British Commonwealth elected just after the war which is still in office, and it has remained there because, under it, Canada has prospered. That, in a nutshell, is why the great mass of the Canadian people still are behind the government.

When the record of the government is examined in detail, the average Canadian will find it as good a record as that of any government since Confederation. It may not have been a spectacular government, for post-war years were not spectacular. They were years when rigid economy, hard work, patient plodding, were needed to put this country on its feet. The King government gave Canada these things in the day of need, and the magnitude of its accomplishment, in comparison with the achievements of other governments, must be measured beside the unprecedented difficulties of its time.

The record of the King government includes some things which bulk above all others and are so evident to everyone that even Conservative politicians cannot assail them in their period of desperation. It has reduced the country's debt by about $270,000,000 in the last seven years. It has substantially reduced taxation, while many provinces were increasing their taxes and their debts.

Now, to meet new conditions, it has launched a new tariff policy to benefit Canadians and help the people of Britain.

WHEN 46 IS "TOO OLD"

HOW OLD IS "TOO OLD?" Socialists are growing worried because many industrialists are replacing middle-aged workers with young men. A man of fifty years has a hard time finding a new job. In many quarters, evidently, a man is believed to be close to senility when he passes forty-five.

Most startling of all is the refusal of Captain John K. Davis to navigate the exploration ship Discovery on a voyage to the Antarctic. When the command was offered him, Captain Davis declined, saying that a younger man should be chosen. Yet Captain Davis is only forty-six.

That is putting the age limit pretty low. If a man of forty-six is too old for an important job, the premium on youth must be even higher than we had supposed.

VANCOUVER AND THE LOAF

VANCOUVER CITY COUNCIL HAS DECIDED to apply to Ottawa for an inquiry under the Combines Investigation Act into the price of bread, flour, feed grain and feed grain products with a view to measures being taken by the Dominion government "looking to the control and regulation" of the price of these commodities.

The consuming public naturally is interested in the cost of its staple food. For long it has been argued that some explanation should be forthcoming why a loaf of bread in the majority of Canadian cities should retail at between nine and ten cents for sixteen ounces, while in Great Britain a loaf four times the weight of the Canadian loaf—made chiefly with wheat grown in this country—sells at between seventeen and nineteen cents.

In view of the fact that this question is attracting a great deal of attention in many parts of the Dominion, a number of public bodies conducting their own inquiries, it is to be hoped the authorities at Ottawa will see fit to take action. The public obviously desires to be fair in the matter, and an investigation should produce the information it desires.

MR. ROGERS CONFESSES

WILL ROGERS, GREATEST OF PROFESSIONAL AMERICAN JESTERS, spends a large part of his time ridiculing the public men of his country. His daily quips, syndicated through countless newspapers, are devoted chiefly to making irreverent fun of everyone in politics, from President Hoover downwards. Most Americans must have been amazed, therefore, when Mr. Rogers recently wrote a complete confession. "I joke about my prominent men," he said, "but at heart I believe in them."

At a time when it is widely considered the smart thing to treat public servants with a kind of lofty contempt, this disclosure, by a man so generally read and quoted as Mr. Rogers, should be useful. One of the oddest weaknesses of democracy in our time is this peculiar attitude towards itself, as represented in the machinery of government which it has created. It is, of course, a superficial attitude, born of ignorance—and it is cheap and rather silly.

In our own country men who know politics from the inside know that the average politician works harder at his job than the average man in public life, that his standards of honesty are just as high as the standards prevailing in the offices, workshops and homes of the whole country. To complain that he is not perfect, that he has weaknesses and makes mistakes, is to complain that he is human like the rest of us. He will never be any better or any different until the rest of us are better and different. Meanwhile, he is doing a great deal better than most of us could do, for the problems of government in this complicated age are far more formidable than the average elector realizes. It takes years of apprenticeship in public affairs to master them.

In Canada particularly is this true, for what seems to be the logical policy to a citizen in Victoria may appear as the ultimate folly to a citizen of Calgary, while a man in Halifax may think that both his countrymen are entirely wrong. Between these viewpoints, and a thousand others, the public man in Canada must strike a delicate balance to provide the greatest good for the greatest number. It is one of the most difficult tasks of government anywhere. As we enter on a national election it will be wholesome for our citizens to remember these things.

APPARENTLY WE ARE DOING NICELY

HERE IS SOMETHING FOR THE PESSIMISTS to ponder over. A dispatch from Ottawa the other day said that recently when the time came for paying income taxes—the law permitting payment in four instalments—ninety per cent. of the taxpayers paid in full and saved interest on deferred payments.

We have been talking about the shortage of money, the effect of the stock market crash, short crop, delayed wheat shipments, and a few other conditions which seem to have had a bearing on the temporary recession of business. But there must still be a fair amount of cold cash about if ninety per cent. of those who pay income tax did not require to use the instalment plan.

TOLERANCE IN THE ABBEY

IN THE LONG PAGEANT OF BRITISH HISTORY Westminster Abbey has witnessed some of the most stirring scenes. None, perhaps, was more curious, and yet more significant in its way, than the recent spectacle of Virginia negroes and negroes, of the Hampton Institute, crowning their plantation hymns within the pile where illustrious Britons are buried, where British kings are crowned, and where the people of British nations come reverently as pilgrims. Here, surely, was a historic contrast. On one side was a race of simple people, struggling slowly upward along the path of progress, expressing themselves in the most primitive and childish form of religious devotion. On the other was a race which has brought civilization to the farthest corners of the world. The negroes, for their part, came to lay a wreath on the tomb of the great David Livingstone, their friend of darkest Africa. The white people came to pay a tribute to a strange but beautiful form of music which has found a spontaneous response in the hearts of all men. And the Abbey looked down on another act which showed that the essential tolerance of the British peoples, which is the secret of their greatness, has not been dimmed through the years.

America is basically sound, says Roger Babson. Having listened over the radio, others of us are gradually coming to think the same way about it.

INTER-IMPERIAL TRADE

The Toronto Star

The nations of Europe realize that the United States has a tremendous economic advantage in the magnitude of her home market. Some of their experts are urging that they form an economic union which would obliterate customs frontiers and afford greater freedom of trade, in this way offsetting to some degree the advantage of the United States. Ultimately, the nations within the Empire will have a colossal combined trade and should they grant important tariff favors to one another they would render themselves less susceptible to the tariff manipulations of the rest of the world.

THE STRUGGLE OF TO-DAY

The New Age (London)

Notice particularly that war does not begin with a deadlock between banks or bankers. Nothing happens within the orbit of banking activities that is comparable in the least to the cause of discord outside. That cause, on every plane, is the same: it is anxiety about economic security in a world governed by financial law. In banking there is peremptory competition (chiefly for showmanship purposes), conducted in the serene atmosphere of perpetually-assured solvency. Outside banking, there is real competition to avoid insolvency, and it is based on the actual experience that insolvency means economic extinction. In strict law—and their own law—the banks were insolvent at the outbreak of the war. But all they had to do was to tell Mr. Asquith and Mr. Lloyd George to change the law—which these statesmen did. This law excused them from paying out what they owed in the tangible form in which they had contracted to pay; and allowed them to substitute something intangible—"Treasury Notes"—mere pictures of the goods they had contracted to deliver. Since then they have ousted the state from its constitutional right to print the pictures, and have begun to do the job themselves. Parliament does reserve the right to sanction the programme of production when it exceeds a certain amount, but considering that it has renounced the job itself it is a foregone conclusion that it will not interfere with the bankers' decision how it is to be done.

The struggle of to-day is one of producers with goods to sell to get into contact with consumers who have money to buy them. Outside of that, struggle stands a capital equipment with an unneeded capacity large enough to double, treble or quadruple the existing unabsorbable surplus directly the money is put up. "Ah," says the financial expert, "that's where you make a mistake; for if more money is put up, prices will be put up, and the struggle you think to cure will proceed just the same." The answer to them is: "Of course prices will go up if you put up the money on your usual conditions." It is because of the bankers' conditions that every previous expansion of credit has always hitherto been followed by inflation of prices. Inflation is not inherent in the expansion, but in the accounting into cost of the expanded credit. And the chief injury to business following inflation is not inherent in the inflation but in the premature withdrawal of credit from circulation.

England grapples with the problem of muffs and May Queens, which causes us no trouble here—Mr. Norton achieves great scientific triumph and the McGregors are utterly discredited.

By R. B. W.

SOME OF ENGLAND'S best minds are struggling at present with a problem which seems passing strange to us out here, but which, in Victoria Day celebrations approaching, is of personal concern. As presented by no less an authority than The Manchester Guardian, this problem, in brief, is as follows: "Are May Queens born with faces like muffs or do they assume that appearance as a result of promotion to their proud position?"

And it goes on to allege in most brutal language that the photographs of May Queens crowned throughout England this month remind it irresistibly of "a well-appointed bunloaf." The Guardian, which evidently has gone very deeply into this vital question, adds: "Researches carried out in the University of Columbia, where the question of May Queens has been carefully done. WOMAN SAYS BRITISH RULE BEST FOR INDIA

Guelph, Ont., May 22.—Vindication of British rule and Christian missionary activities in India was voiced in the address delivered by Dr. Margaret MacKellar, returned missionary from Meerut, India, before the Guelph Presbyterian Women's Missionary Society.

Dr. MacKellar declared—and she has forty years' experience behind her—that the reports stating that all the Indians desire home rule are false. Only the Hindus are making this demand, and not all the Hindus. The people of the sixty-five native states, numbering 40,000,000 of the population, are not following Mahatma Gandhi, the rebel leader.

The British have opened the country for missionaries; they have established a telegraph service and a postal service second to none in the world, all of which aids the missionary. During British occupancy 39,000 miles of macadamised roads have been built, 3,500 hospitals have been erected, which treat 38,000,000 people yearly, and seven medical schools for training native doctors have been established. At the time of the Indian mutiny there were forty miles of railway in the country—today there are 40,000 miles. She has established thousands of miles of irrigation canals, making it possible to grow food in former famine areas; she has built five first-class universities with which are affiliated 150 colleges, and there is now a body of 22,000,000 educated people in India.

In addition, Britain has done much for the womanhood of India. She has commanded the Indians to stop burning the widows of the country alive, she has commanded that Indians dare not sacrifice their daughters in the Ganges, that Indian lepers shall not be killed and that the daughters of the land shall not be given marriage until they are at least fourteen years of age. Dr. MacKellar felt that this record is a worthy record, and urged that all Canadians make themselves acquainted with the facts so that they would be ready to refute mis-statements made by the uninformed critics of British rule.

In appealing to the girls of the Presbyterian to enter the mission service, Miss Little urged that they be told that fourteen girls were commissioned from Canada this year, and that for 1931 there are needed six nurses and five teachers for foreign work and five nurses and three teachers for home work.

BOUQUET FOR FIRST BRIDE ON NEW BOAT

When the new Canadian Pacific coastal steamer Princess Elizabeth was being welcomed to Vancouver recently with a civic luncheon at which city and port officials praised the C.P.R. for its initiative and foresight in building up such a splendid coastal fleet, Mayor W. H. Malkin and K. J. Burns, port superintendent, promised to present the first bride who traveled on the new ship with a handsome bouquet. Mrs. L. Goodge, 1874 Venables street, Vancouver, was the first bride, traveling from Vancouver to Victoria May 17 on the brand new steamer. In above picture she is receiving the prize bouquet from George Fitch, secretary to Mayor Malkin. Left to right are Capt. H. W. McMurray, marine superintendent B.C. PIONEER PRIEST CELEBRATES HIS JUBILEE HERE

Rev. Father N. L. Heyman of Nanaimo Ordained Fifty Years Ago

Rev. Father N. L. Heyman of Nanaimo is to-day celebrating in Victoria the golden jubilee of his ordination to the priesthood which took place in his native country, Holland, in 1885. Six months later Father Heyman arrived here, and has spent the entire fifty years of his priesthood in this diocese, a unique achievement in the annals of Victoria. Father Heyman is also the sole survivor here of the twelve priests who constituted the staff of Bishop Seghers in 1880. Rev. Father Nicolay, now in Holland, being the only other.

Father Heyman chose to celebrate the day quietly in Victoria. In the chapel of St. Ann's Academy, assisted by two acolytes, the venerable priest sang high mass this morning at 8 o'clock. There were no flowers, but the altar was made beautiful with golden emblems of the wheat and vine, and golden chains festooned the sanctuary.

SISTERS AT MASS
By request of the celebrant a special arrangement of his own, Father Heyman was devotionally sung by the convent choir, the solo in the offertory by Sister Superior of St. Joseph's Hospital, who before entering the order of St. Ann had been organist in Father Heyman's church at Nanaimo.

At the communion of the mass the two sisters, who approached the holy table, were those who had come from Holland thirty-five years ago under the protection of Father Heyman on the steamer of his firm. He had spent five years in office before being sent to Alaska in 1885.

TELLS OF HIS LIFE
At the conclusion of the mass and before imparting his jubilee blessing, Father Heyman spoke of his life and briefly of his life in British Columbia. The present chapel of St. Ann was the first cathedral, and it was here that he had said his first mass. He had spent five years in office before being sent to Alaska in 1885.

PIONEER ON ISLAND

His church in Sitka was a large building, a Russian stable, where he officiated for three years. He was on the west coast, and Wellington, a little later, were his next charges, and in 1898 he was appointed to Nanaimo, the church there being completely destroyed by fire in 1910. Father Heyman had his Wellington church sawn in four sections and transported by wagon road to Nanaimo, where it was set up again, reshingled and is still doing duty.

SCHUBERT CLUB SCORES SUCCESS WITH CANTATA

ASSISTING ARTIST

Two well-chosen songs revealed Mr. Moorman as a singer, imbued with intelligence and musical ability. His voice is of robust quality, wide range and well controlled, and he gave an artistic interpretation of "Myself When Young," from Lisa Lehmann's cycle, "In a Persian Garden." He also sang "Not Young Lover," and the plaintive tender "Tears and Signs" (Schumann). As an encore he contributed Handel's "Hear Me Ye Winds and Waves," which revealed his adequate equipment as a singer of oratorio. His second group included "Sea Moods" (Gastford), sung with much expression; Lane Wilson's "Pale Phyllis and Shaw's" rollicking "Old Clothes and Fine Clothes." The audience again demanding an encore, he gave the Irish ballad, "Molly Brannigan" (Villiers-Stanford).

Two Scottish numbers, "Over the Moor" and the "Deil's Wa' (Burns), formed his final group, and so delighted the audience that Mr. Moorman responded with the quaintly amusing "Wee Cooper of Fife," which had to be repeated, so enthusiastic was the reception.

YOUNG VIOLINIST

The only instrumental solos on the programme were furnished by Miss Adele Bucklin, well-known young Victoria violinist, whose playing of "Andantino" (Maurice Kreutzer) and the sprightly "Sicilienne and Biscanons" (Francoeur-Kreutzer) was notable for its mature tone, facile bowing and interpretative beauty. This young artist shows rare promise, and both she and her able accompanist, Miss Ellen Dumbarton, well deserved the floral tributes presented to them.

Mrs. Paul Green, who lent admirable support at the piano for the choral numbers, also received a well-merited bouquet of flowers.

Nordon Income Likely to Be Cut

Nordon Oil estimated that its income from oil royalties, mostly in California, was $10,000,000, and its expenditures $15,000,000. It is likely that income will receive a setback as a result of the severe cut in price of crude oil from $12.50 to $10.00 per barrel. Field, Mason and Dispecker say in a statement to-day.

Nordon shareholders meet May 30 to pass upon a proposal to organize a new company of one half the present capitalization and exchange shares for shares which will place 700,000 shares in the treasury and leave 1,000,000 shares outstanding, exclusive of recent New York financing.

St. Columba W.A.—The branch of the W.A. connected with St. Columba Church, Strawberry Vale, will hold the next monthly meeting in Colquhoun Hall on May 28 at 8:30 o'clock.

An assistant giving treatment in Herr Echten's Salon near the Opera House.

The valuable cosmetic oils in Palmolive Soap protect the skin against the constant use of make-up and the countless abuses of modern life. It is nature's safeguard... a beauty recipe perfected after more than 120 years of soap study.

"If the skin is kept really clean," Echten, of Budapest, advises, "it cannot help but look fresh, vivid and lovely. But only too often you abuse the skin by using the wrong kind of soap, or using no soap whatever. The pores become clogged with impurities and the skin is blocked by dust absorbed from the air. What is the result?"

"All sorts of skin irritations, a sallowness, a muddiness that seems to be proof against even your expert beauty specialist's treatment. There is just one thing to do and that depends upon you. The remedy is so simple, yet it must be a part of your daily routine. You should wash the face twice a day with Palmolive Soap and warm water, then rinse with cold. The result—a fresh, smooth skin—will delight you. I know, because Palmolive is made of pure vegetable oils—the best beautifiers known to beauty science."

Echten—beauty adviser at the Royal Opera

Francis Echten and his son, Francis, Junior, attend the famous opera stars of Budapest daily. They have, likewise, a social clientele that is more than distinguished. For the complexion treatment for home use is the same simple, easily carried out treatment advised by more than 19,813 other beauticians all over the world.

No soap ever had such universal professional endorsement. No beauty treatment was ever so popular as the Palmolive treatment. Millions of lovely women owe their freshness of complexion to this vegetable oil soap. They consult their beauty experts regularly, of course. But they do not fail—at the same time—to follow the advice given by those experts.

What these cosmetic oils do

The skin must be conditioned to meet weather, make-up, all sorts of abuses of daily modern life. The vegetable oils of palm and olives make a latter which is safe, gentle, effective.

Palmolive owes its natural green color to these oils alone. It contains no other fats... no heavy perfumes.

Once you use it, you'll appreciate the enthusiasm of the world's great beauty experts. You'll see why they warn against the use of ordinary soaps... why they regard Palmolive as the best protection against a dull, sallow, muddy-looking skin.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MRS. MARY ELDER

Mrs. Elder will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

Ignoring Faulty Speech Pays Part in Correcting Stammering

One of the characteristic statements made when parents discuss stammering is that the child begins "stuttering." This is a very natural conclusion because stammering is jerky, unorthodox speech and we expect this of the small child. Also small children do not talk in sentences but in single words. It is the older child whose longer sentences are jerky and uttered in a breathless way who arouses in the mind of the parent the conviction that he has suddenly begun to stammer. Probably the child has always talked somewhat jerkily and some unusual situation, which makes talking temporarily more difficult, focuses attention on the stammering.

Mrs. O. N. B. writes: "When my little girl was about two years old she suddenly began stammering very noticeably. We thought it only natural, avoided mentioning the trouble, and three months later there was no sign of it."

CHILD IS DISTURBED BY IT
"Now she is four and about a month ago she began stammering again. She has grown steadily worse and now she uses up one lungful of air and begins another all on the same word. We followed the same plan as before but now she is old enough for it to bother her terribly. Sometimes she manages a complete sentence (and she has quite an extensive vocabulary) without a single stutter, then the next sentence will be worse than ever. I notice that she almost never stutters when talking to her dolls, so it looks like self-consciousness, doesn't it? Do you think this will pass?"

CORRECTIVE MEASURES

Ignoring it can never increase the stammering. Mrs. O. N. B. so that is always a wise procedure. As it worsens, once before, you should be convinced, if possible, that it will work again. Efforts to correct the stammering by making the child stop and start over, taking a long breath, and all the frantic efforts parents have been told to make, were doomed to failure because the child became more than ever conscious of his labored speech. Stammering stops when the child becomes unconscious of his speech. Direct your efforts toward improve-ing the child's co-ordination. Singing, patting, running, skipping, marching to music or to the drum are methods of making the child's body movements rhythmic. This helps the speech. Turn away when she is speaking so that she does not feel your attention centred upon her so intently. Speak to her in low, calm voice and rather slowly, so that she imitates your manner. We offer a leaflet on stammering which suggests, also, some helpful books for parents to read. Send a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request for it.

SONS WIN AND LEAVE CELLAR IN BALL LOOP

Lloyd Cann Hurls Canadians To 8-3 Victory Over Eagles; Hilton Hits Homer

Eagles Play Poor Ball Behind Bill Holness; Elks Play Jokers To-morrow

Sons of Canada pulled themselves out of the cellar position in the Senior Amateur Baseball League yesterday evening at the Royal Athletic Park when they scored an 8-3 victory over the Eagles in eight innings. The Jokers still lead the league by a one-game margin over the Elks, but have played one more game than the lodgemen.

Both teams scored a lone run in the first inning, but the Sons took the lead in the second when they showed three more runners across the plate and were never headed again. The Canuks added another run in the fourth, one in the fifth and two in the seventh. The Eagles brought their total to three by scoring two runners in the fifth. Cliff Hilton, third sacker for the Sons, hit a home run.

HIS FIRST VICTORY
Lloyd Cann, who twirled for the Sons, allowed the Eagles four scattered hits while he struck out seven. It was his first victory of the season. Bill Holness made his season's debut on the mound for the Eagles and hurled fairly good ball, but received terrible support, his teammates making seven errors. Holness was nicked for nine hits, while he struck out six.

To-morrow evening the Jokers and Elks will meet in a game to decide the league leadership.

NET COURTS ARE OPENED

Mrs. A. S. Christy Hits First Ball Over Net at First United Tennis Courts

A large gathering witnessed the official opening of the new tennis courts at the corner of Cook Street and Caledonia Avenue yesterday. Two board courts have been erected through donations from the congregation, and William Keith, one of the young men in the church, was responsible for the undertaking, as he was the organizer as well as the builder of the courts.

Following addresses by Rev. Dr. Wilson, Rev. Bruce Gray and J. G. Brown, an interesting ceremony took place when Mrs. A. S. Christy hit the first ball over the net and declared the courts ready for use.

A mixed foursome, composed of Mrs. W. H. Wilson and Fred MacGregor and Mrs. W. G. Wilson and George Strath was assigned the honor of playing the first set on the new courts, and resulted in a win for the former. J. G. Brown, who has sponsored many of the athletic associations in the church, referred.

George Strath presented William Keith with a sweater as a token of appreciation for his initiative in the enterprise.

To further encourage the game of tennis in the church, five cups were donated at yesterday evening's meeting, which will be offered for competition for the members. J. G. Brown, Fred MacGregor, Little and Taylor, Rev. Thomas Mandel and George Strath were the donors. It was also intimated that Mr. Brown's trophy would possibly be offered as a perpetual prize to be presented to the winning team in a proposed church tennis league.

Herbert Penderay donated the paint for covering of the court. George Gordon, convener of the finance committee, in charge of special subscriptions, delivered an excellent report, while Alderman W. T. Strath also spoke.

Veteran English Cricketer Will Retire From Game

London, May 22.—The retirement from active cricket at the end of this season of Wilfred Rhodes, one of the greatest players the game has produced, is announced by the Yorkshire Post.

Rhodes, who was attached to the Yorkshire county team as a professional, has been playing first-class cricket since 1896. He has played forty-one Tests for England in test matches against Australia, has toured the Antipodes four times and South Africa twice. At the age of fifty-two, last winter, he played on the English team which visited the West Indies.

British Columbia Rugger Will Make Japan Tour in 1931

Vancouver, May 22.—J. Pye Smith, president of the Canadian Rugby Association, stated yesterday that arrangements are being made to send a British Columbia rugger team to Japan in 1931 for a series of games. A Japanese team is coming to Canada this summer.

BOWLERS SHOW THEIR SKILL WITH THE BAT

Nottinghamshire in Poor Start Against Hampshire; Other Results Given

London, May 22.—Nottinghamshire, English champion cricket county, made a bad start in their match against Hampshire at Southampton yesterday. They were dismissed in their first innings for a mere 68, John Newman being the most successful Hampshire bowler, with an analysis of five wickets for 18 runs. Hampshire fired a little better on a bowler's wicket, replying with 125.

The Australians looked at the beginning as if they were going to have an easy time with Derby, the county losing three good wickets for 34 runs. The rout was stopped by Harry Storer and S. Worthington, the former scoring 65 and the latter 70, and the county's first innings finally ended for 215.

Bowlers showed their skill with the bat yesterday when J. C. White, the international, compiled 97 for Somerset against Derby, while George Geary also just missed a century to Leicestershire against Cambridge University, scoring 99.

Centurians yesterday were: Rev. H. J. Parsons, 114, for Warwickshire against Surrey; E. Tyldesley, 106, for Lancashire against Glamorganshire, and J. O'Connor, 159, for Essex against Gloucestershire.

Scores at the end of yesterday's play were: Derbyshire, 215; Australia, 54 for no wickets. Middlesex vs. Somerset, at Lords: Somerset, 324, for nine wickets. Lancashire vs. Warwickshire, at the Kennington Oval: Warwick, 318. Kent, 190; Northants, 122. Essex vs. Gloucestershire, at Bristol: Essex, 260. Wotts, 69; Hampshire, 125. Lancashire, 293; Glamorgan, 16 runs for no wickets. Leicestershire, 229; Cambridge, 6 runs for one wicket. Friendly match Yorkshire, 322; Sussex, 43 runs for no wickets.

FOREMAN WINS BRITISH TITLE

Former Canadian Lightweight Champ Knocks Out Fred Webster in London

London, May 22.—Al Foreman of Montreal won the British lightweight boxing championship here yesterday by scoring a speedy victory over Fred Webster, holder of the title. Foreman knocked out his opponent shortly after the start of the first round of a bout which was slated to go twelve rounds.

The Montreal flash opened up with a bruising attack and had Webster in distress after a few blows had been struck.

Foreman feinted cleverly for an opening and sent in a smashing blow to the Englishman's jaw which sent him sprawling to the canvas for the count. Foreman held the Canadian lightweight title before the crown was toppled from his brow recently by Tommy Brown of Vancouver, B.C. Since gaining the championship decision Townsend has put on considerable weight and latest reports have it that the Vancouver boy contemplates entering the welterweight ranks. Such a development would put Foreman, in line once again as the foremost claimant of the Dominion lightweight title.

U.B.C. Rugger Back Home After Their Long Tour

Vancouver, May 22.—The members of the English Rugby team of the University of British Columbia returned home yesterday from their successful tour of Eastern Canada, and were tendered a civic luncheon. In congratulating the team upon its victories, Mayor Makin expressed his dislike for American and Canadian football, stating that he hoped the recent trip of British Columbia rugger had helped "drive a nail in the coffin of the American game."

"Any game in which the men must be covered from toe to cap with pads is no game at all," commented his Worship.

J. Pye Smith, president of the Canadian Rugby Association, said letters and telegrams he had received from Eastern Canada since during the course of the tour, had convinced him that English Rugby would eventually replace the less open game in the Dominion.

John Pesek Wins Wrestling Match

Columbus, Ohio, May 22.—Winning two of three falls with back slams which stunned his rival John Pesek, the Ravenna, Neb., heavyweight, who claims the world's wrestling championship, defeated Ad. Santelli, Oakland, Calif., wrestler before 7,000 fans here yesterday evening.

Pesek, whose challenges have been ignored by Gus Sonnenburg and Dick Spikatz, "champions of the world," in Massachusetts and New York, respectively, thus disposed of the only man who has beaten him within the last four years. He previously had taken two decisions from Santelli and lost one. He had lost only one fall in his last seventy-two matches.

Senators and Athletics Continue Neck and Neck Race

Two Leaders Stay Out In Front By Double Victories

Surprising Senators Continue To Top American League By Downing Boston Twice; Athletics In Great Twin Victory Over New York Yankees; Other Teams Bunched Together; Four First Division Clubs In National Defeat Second Division Contenders.

Although their race has been rather overshadowed by the heated struggle in the National League, the clubs of the American League have been putting on some rather interesting contests of their own for the higher positions in the standing.

Little more could be asked of the two leaders, the surprising Washington Senators and the Philadelphia Athletics, current champions, than the pace they have been setting. They are separated only by a one-game margin.

They both engaged in double-headers yesterday and came out with two victories apiece to hold their place. Washington, with Sam Jones and Adolph Liska carrying the pitching burden, defeated the Boston Red Sox twice.

The Athletics got off to a very bad start against the New York Yankees when Babe Ruth hit two home runs on his first two trips to the plate and started the Yankees off to a 6-0 lead, but those six runs meant little as the world's champions cut loose with a rally that brought nine runs in the seventh and a 15-7 victory. Babe Ruth pitched the A's to a 4-1 victory in the second game, holding New York to five hits. Ruth's feat of home run hitting stole the show at Philadelphia—his addition to the two successive homers, the Babe added a third in the same game.

Chicago in fifth place, is but two and a half games ahead of the slumping Detroit Tigers after yesterday's 9-3 victory over Detroit.

NATIONAL LEADERS WIN

The National League consolidated its line-up as the four first division clubs defeated second division contenders. The leading Brooklyn Robins scored three four-run bursts to beat the Boston Braves, 13-1.

St. Louis Cardinals got a big break when Jack Miller of Cincinnati cut loose with a wild pitch with a man on third and broke a tie to give the Cards a 3-2 victory. Pittsburgh held its precarious grip on third place by beating Chicago Cubs, 10-3.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
Philadelphia, May 22.—The Athletics hit hard and consistently to win both games of a double-header from the New York Yankees yesterday by scores of 15 to 7 and 4 to 1. Home runs featured both games. Babe Ruth getting three in the first and Fox on a Simmons and Dykes of Philadelphia hit the second game home run. The A's score three runs in a seventh-inning rally in the first game.

It was the first time Ruth ever has hit three home runs in a regular season game, although he has twice performed the feat in world series contests. The first two came off Barnabas in the first and third innings, and the third off Bob Grove in the eighth. The three homers gave him the American League lead with a total of nine.

Los Angeles, May 22.—Frank Shellenback, veteran spitball hurler, who led the team in pitching last year, yesterday was credited with his first full game victory when the Hollywood Stars defeated Portland, 6 to 4. Carroll Yerkes, Beaver pitcher, started his mates out well with a homer with one on in the first. Ossie Orvill followed with a homer in the second to give Portland a four-run edge, but Yerkes was chased by the Stars' heavy hitting in the fourth and fifth, which gave them the victory edge.

Sacramento, May 22.—Sacramento evened up the series with Los Angeles yesterday by taking the second game, 5 to 2. Keating and Barfoot worked on the mound, but neither showed much. The low score was due to sensational fielding, numerous double plays and some atrocious base running by the Angels, many of whom wasted hits, being picked off stretching. Osborn hit a home run.

RUGBY TOUR HARD GOING

"Tough Assignment When Team Crooked," Says Robins, Local U.B.C. Man

Trans-canada rugby tour from a player's point of view was described by Bill "Goldlocks" Robins, one of the star forwards on the University of British Columbia Rugby team, which returned yesterday to Vancouver without dropping a single game in their series of six in the East.

"It's a pretty tough assignment," stated Robins, adding that it was a pleasant when three or four of the regulars were off the line-up with injuries and half the rest of the team was partially "crooked." Robins arrived in this city to-day for his vacation.

On the whole the tour was quite a success, he stated. In all the cities the U.B.C. players visited, they were treated with the utmost courtesy. Several times they were taken for plane rides and while in Toronto were flown over Niagara Falls, he said.

Speaking about the games he said the U.B.C. men should have been able to sweep through all opposition, but found it hard going when several of their regulars were on the missing list. Hamilton gave them plenty of work before they were finally subjected, the blond-headed forward added.

When questioned about the game in which his kicking accounted for the majority of points, he declined to express an opinion other than it was a good match.

Benton Traded To Cincinnati Reds For Hughie Critz

New York, May 22.—The New York Giants yesterday completed a trade in which the Cincinnati Reds which sent Larry Benton, star right-handed pitcher, to Cincinnati in exchange for Hughie Critz, one of the outstanding second basemen of the National League. John McGraw, Giant manager, announced it was a straight trade with no cash involved.

Critz, who is twenty-nine years old, has been with the Reds since 1924. Benton also played with Memphis and later with the Boston Braves, who sent him to the Giants in 1927. The following year he was the outstanding right-hander in the National League, but he has not done well since then.

Burris broke the tie in the seventh with a home run into the bleachers.

AFTER AMERICAN LAURELS

By JIMMY THOMPSON

This year will again be a big one for sailing. Not only will the American yachtsmen have to consider serious opposition from Great Britain, but they have to take Canada into consideration. Although Sir Thomas Lipton is in his eighty-first year, he is still a constant worry to American yachtsmen for the famous America's Cup. It has been the ambition for the past twenty-five years of this famous old yachtsman to capture the famous trophy. This year he will send his latest craft, the Shamrock V, which is his fifth attempt, to capture the cup.

Canada yachting activities have been very much alive recently, the Quest, Norseman and Vision have been built, the last named being launched at Guelph, England, while the Norseman was designed by W. J. Howe, creator of the Bluebonnet. These yachts will go into trial races to select the challenger for the Canada's Cup.

Myrtle Cook Is Official Holder Of World's Mark

Montreal, Que., May 22.—Canada's foremost girl sprinter, Myrtle A. Cook, member of the 1928 Olympic team, yesterday received notification that she has been granted officially the world's record for the 100-metre sprint. Miss Cook covered the distance in twelve seconds flat during the Canadian championships and Olympic trials at Halifax in July, 1928.

Word was received yesterday from the ruling body in women's sport, the Feminine Sporting Federation International, that the mark had been accepted as a world's record.

Outside Sea-fleas Coming

Vancouver and Port Angeles Will Have Entries In Marathon

Two Boats Coming From Former City, While Three From Across Strait For The Times Race; Eleven Hydroplanes To Come in Forty-mile Event On Saturday; Norman Findler To Drive Better Motor Car Repairs, Last Year's Winner of The Times Trophy.

Two sea-fleas from Vancouver and three from Port Angeles will compete in the Times marathon on May 24, according to word received this morning. The names of the boats coming are not known, but with outside competitors taking part added interest is being shown in the forty-mile event. The Vancouver and Port Angeles craft will arrive here Saturday morning and, after being unloaded from the steamers, their owners will drive them over the course.

All arrangements for the event have been completed and a thrilling race is anticipated with these small craft churning up the waters from the Inner Harbor to the Gorge Bridge at a speed between thirty-five to forty miles an hour.

Eleven hydroplanes will take part in the event. The Victoria entries include: Better Motor Car Repairs, winner of the Times race last year; Miss Auburn and "It in '37" class, and Sad News, Miss Indian and Miss Johnson in "B" class. Every boat entered will have a chance to win the handsome Times Trophy, although there will be special prizes for the "B" class craft. The Better Motor Car Repairs will be driven by Norm Findler, while Harry Jones will be at the wheel of Miss Auburn and Ralph Bagley will pilot the "It in '37". Johnny Wenger will drive Sad News, Joe Wheeler, Miss Indian, and Bill Dillabough, Miss Johnson.

Promptly at 3.45 o'clock the little craft will start their long race from opposite the J.B.A.A. float at the Gorge. They will proceed to the Inner Harbor, where they will circle a buoy and continue back to the Gorge, where they go around the speedboat Bluebird, which will be anchored there. Four complete round trips will be made.

Following the race the prizes will be presented to the winners. This year the Times has donated a beautiful new perpetual challenge trophy.

BOB PEARCE TO COMPETE AT HAMILTON

Australian Holder of Olympic Sculling Championship Is Coming to Empire Games. Nineteen Athletes Will Represent Bermuda; Canadian Athletes Are Keen

Hamilton, Ont., May 22.—The committee of management of British Empire Games has been asked to arrange for the transportation of Bob Pearce's shells from Vancouver to Hamilton. This removes all question of doubt as to the participation of the Olympic champion sculler in the empire games at Hamilton. The Australian committee is making every effort to increase the quota of athletes from that country and has reason to anticipate success.

Information from Bermuda is to the effect that the team of athletes from that country for Empire games will total nineteen. From Scotland comes word that the Scottish Bowling Association has decided to send a team of bowlers along with the contingent that is to represent that country. Requests for information keep pouring into headquarters. Indications are that there is a keen desire on the part of the athletes of Canada to gain places on the various Canadian teams than there was in connection with the selection of Canada's 1928 Olympic teams.

Col. C. C. Bennett Registers "Dodo" At Oak Bay Links

Col. C. C. Bennett, one of the veteran members of the Victoria Golf Club, joined the hole-in-one club yesterday. While playing in a foursome with Justice W. A. Gallher, Dr. A. J. Garesche and E. C. Temple, Col. Bennett sank his tee shot at the 192-yard fourteenth hole.

BOBBY JONES ON GOLF

About the most maddening sound a golfer can hear is the guffawing laugh of some over-a-hundred expert in the gallery when a four or five-foot putt wheels out of the hole. The sound is not pleasant when the missed putt shrinks to two feet or less, but in that case the player's resentment is less violent because he himself feels that he very likely deserves everything he gets.

I have often wished that there was some way to impress upon these loud-voiced persons the real difficulty of a short putt over a fast green when everything of importance depends upon the success of the effort. But because the duffer never feels the strain of competition, and possibly also because he seldom bothers to putt or count the short ones, he cannot appreciate how it feels to be confronting a yard putt that simply must go down.

CARELESSNESS OFTEN CAUSE

A good many short putts are missed through nothing else than carelessness. The thing looks so simple that it is hard to view it seriously. Yet it will be observed that comparatively few short putts are missed in the course of a friendly, informal round. This would argue that tension and anxiety caused more misses than lack of care, and we might be convinced of that were it not for the diabolical perversity which every golfer knows to be inherent in a golf ball.

A casual tap with the back of the putter is enough to hole any short putt when no one cares much whether it goes in or not, but once large crowds are placed upon the result, two hands and a world of pains are required to steer the ball into the hole.

There is nothing so demoralizing as missing a short putt. I have seen numbers of times a man's entire game, from tee to green, entirely destroyed in the course of a few holes as a result of one little putt. One missed the next one looks doubly hard; that cast away, too, then the approach putts begin to stop all distances from the green, applying the pressure with even greater force. Soon putting becomes impossible and the player begins to force his long range, trying to place his second shot close to the hole so that he will have to do little putting.

A rapid progression through these stages results before long in utter rout.

I do not need to recount the matches in important championships that have been turned by the missing of an almost infinitesimal putt. Every man who has played golf knows how quickly the tide may turn. For not only does the miss destroy the player's confidence, but it also inspires his opponent.

Long ago I learned that no putt is short enough to be despised. I have long since realized the folly of one-handed, back-handed, and all other kinds of disguised efforts. When it matters at all whether or not the next stroke goes in, no matter how short the putt may be, it receives as close attention as I am able to give. I always take a stance and address, even when the ball is lying at the very edge of the hole.

I shall never forget my feelings as I prepared to tap in my last putt at Columbus to win the American Open. The thing could not have been over three inches in length, yet I was in mortal terror lest I should strike the ground and fail to move the ball even that distance. It can be done, you know.

It is always best to remember that even the little ones count.

Short Sleeves

Elbow sleeves emerge as quite the best for daytime wear. If your arms are especially attractive, sleeveless frocks are right for the offices. But unless they are, the elbow sleeve is a flattering substitute.

MARKET REACTION DUE TO LAGGING BUSINESS

The recovery in security prices following the November liquidation having been based on easy money and on the expectation of a quick recovery in business similar to those of 1924 and 1927, the recent reaction represents disappointment over the failure of these hopes to be realized, in the opinion of The Brookmire Economic Service, Inc.

The immediate outlook for business has not changed recently," says Brookmire. "Steel prices have been reduced and mill operations are tapering off. Automobile output in April was 480,000 as compared with 545,000 in April last year. Overheadings are still lower than in any year since 1924. Our business index remains well below normal, where it has been for six months.

"Whether or not the current reaction in the stock market will further retard progress in business remains to be seen. Sales of automobiles, radios and other types of luxury and semi-luxury goods will be further reduced. Deflation of security prices has an adverse effect on public confidence.

"A definite upturn in business is not yet in sight and whether or not a further decline from present levels over the next few months occurs, normal operations will not be resumed for several months."

Children To Have Better Playgrounds

Nanaimo, May 21.—Fine arrangements are being made for the amusement of children during the summer months. In addition to bathing beaches, under the supervision of the Canadian Legion and Army and Navy Veterans' Association, two new playgrounds have been provided through the efforts of the City Club. On Sunday the members were out in full force at Devill Square, mixing concrete and shoring up rock. After a hard day's toil they had all the new swings, horizontal bars and chutes erected by nightfall.

The City Club are being complimented on the splendid work they have accomplished in providing playgrounds at Corner Reed Park and Devill Square to give pleasure and enjoyment to the youngsters of Nanaimo.

Fresh Awnings

If your awnings have been stored, brush them thoroughly and remove all spots before putting up. Make sure the rods are bright-looking and renew all strings that pull them up or let them down. These little things make for a general appearance of freshness.

Aorangi Completes Speedy Run Here With Large List

Canadian-Australasian Liner Reaches Port This Afternoon, Fifteen Hours Ahead of Schedule; Bishop Wright of Sydney Among Passengers For London; Total of 550 People Aboard With 205 In First Cabin; Cargo Includes 20,000 Boxes of Butter.

Running fifteen hours ahead of schedule the Canadian-Australasian liner Aorangi reached Victoria this afternoon at 3 o'clock this afternoon from Sydney and Auckland via San Francisco.

The voyage from the South Seas was made under excellent sailing conditions to the complete enjoyment of the large list of passengers.

On board the liner was a total of 550 travelers, one of the largest lists to pass through Victoria this year from Australasia. There are 205 in the first cabin, 160 second class and 185 third class passengers. Fully two-thirds of the passengers here to-day on the Aorangi are routed through to the United Kingdom and points in Europe.

NOTED TRAVELERS

Prominent among the Aorangi's first class passengers is Ernest H. C. Wundtlich, F.R.A.S., chairman of the board of directors of Wundtlich Limited, one of the largest manufacturers of architectural and building materials in Australia with factories at Rosell and Chelmsford, N.W., and Melbourne, Adelaide, Perth and Brisbane.

Another traveler of prominence who is bound from Australia to London is the Most Rev. John C. Wright, Archbishop of Sydney and Primate of Australia.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Robinson and family of Sydney, are en route to England. Mr. Robinson is identified with the Broken Hill mines of New South Wales.

As the Aorangi berthed at the Rithet Dock to take to make connections with the regular 3.45 o'clock boat to Seattle, a number of the ship's passengers bound to the United States remained over to take passage to Seattle by the steamship Empress of Canada, due at 10 o'clock to-night from San Francisco.

BUTTER CHIEF CARGO

The Aorangi's cargo totaled 1,600 tons, the chief consignment being 20,000 boxes of New Zealand butter. 3,000 boxes of which are billed to Victoria merchants. The Canadian four-cent duty on butter does not appear to have affected New Zealand shipments.

The local cargo amounted to 135 tons, while mail put ashore here was made up of thirty-four bags for Victoria, 116 bags for the United States and fourteen bags for the mail seaplane.

The Aorangi is due to arrive in Vancouver about midnight.

CANADA'S NEW DESTROYERS ARE MODERN

H.M.C.S. Saguenay and Skeena Will Soon Be Completed at Thornycroft Plant

Montreal, May 22.—No ship afloat will be more modern than the two craft, Saguenay and Skeena, which will soon be introduced to the Royal Canadian Navy, declared Commander A. E. Eager, who sailed for England to report to headquarters of the Royal Navy. Commander Eager has completed six years of duty in Canada, being "loaned" as he expressed it, to the Royal Canadian Navy. He was stationed at Halifax for three years, and for the last three years has been secretary to the Royal Canadian Navy at Ottawa.

The commander expressed his future regret upon leaving his comrades in Canada. He looks forward to the future of the Canadian navy hopefully, but could not be led to give any prediction concerning the growth. He will be succeeded by Paymaster-Commander G. A. Yould, O.B.E., who, it is understood, will arrive in Canada soon to take over the post of naval secretary.

TRAFFIC HEAD FOR MILWAUKEE

FREDERICK N. HICKS

Mr. Hicks started with the Milwaukee in Philadelphia in 1904 as traveling freight and passenger agent. Under his new appointment he will have general supervision over all traffic, both freight and passenger, in the territory west of the Missouri River.

MASTERS OF WHITE STAR IN SHUFFLE

Illness of Capt. William Marshall, Fleet Commander, Brings Many Changes

The illness of Captain William Marshall, recently named commander of the White Star fleet in succession to Sir Bertram Hayes, retired, continues to be serious and has occasioned further changes in the commanding personnel of the company's fleet. These latest changes also effect the lines of the White Star Canadian service fleet.

Capt. E. R. White, now in command of the Olympic, will take charge of the Majestic, the world's largest liner, on June 18. Capt. C. E. Warner of the Olympic, will take command of the Homeric.

BRITANNIC'S COMMANDER

Capt. E. L. Trant, who was to have taken command of the new Britannic, will act as relief commander for the "big ship" of the White Star fleet, the Britannic, while the present commander of the Olympic, Capt. J. B. Bulman, will take command of the Homeric.

After ten years at sea he joined the White Star fleet in 1899 as junior officer. He has served as staff captain of the Majestic and as commander of the Belgic, Celtic, Mesantic, Ceramic, Persic, Baltic, Doric and Albion, joining the latter in 1927.

The latest assignment of captains to White Star Canadian service liners at present is as follows: Mesantic, E. Hume; Doric, W. H. P. Jackson; Laurentic, J. W. Binks; Arabic, W. S. Quinn; Albion, P. H. Vaughan; Calgaric, P. A. Frank.

LONG HOURS OF STEEL WORKERS BEFORE OTTAWA

Protection Should Be Withheld Unless Workers Helped,
Members Say

B.C. Cider Manufacture Discussed in Budget Debate

Canadian Press

Ottawa, May 22.—Budget resolutions again will be before the House of Commons to-day.

In the Commons yesterday, discussion of the budget resolutions was delayed practically all evening while labor conditions in the iron and steel industry, particularly of Cape Breton, were debated. J. S. Woodworth, labor
Winnipeg North Centre, protested against increasing the protection of any industry which paid the low wages and forced men to work the long hours that the Canadian steel industry did. He was supported by several members. Some representing ridings in which were situated steel mills were particularly opposed to granting protection unless the concessions were passed on to the men through their pay envelopes, or shorter hours.

VERSAILLES TREATY
Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, pointed out that Canada was a signatory to the treaty of Versailles.
Why should not the steel industry be forced to adhere to the provisions of the International Labor Conference under that treaty? He suggested an amendment of the tariff items to the effect that the increased protection would not come into force until it had been demonstrated that the hours of labor and the rates of wages were consistent with the provisions of the conference.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King agreed that the employees in the steel mills should not be forced to work eighty-five hours a week, but he believed the course suggested was inadvisable. He asked why should not the suggestion apply to customs tariff generally. The Conservative leader replied that he was dealing with the specific case. When others were under consideration, he would deal with them on their merits.

"I am quite prepared to deal with the whole tariff at one shot," declared the Prime Minister.

On the suggestion of Hon. Charles
A. Dunning, the item was allowed to stand over until to-day.

GRAPE JUICE
Grape juice proved to be the first contentious item in the budget resolutions. Hon. J. D. Chaplin, Conservative, Lincoln, urged the imposition of a duty of 25 cents a gallon, saying it was "ridiculous and unreasonable" to admit fresh grapes into Canada at 2 cents a pound and impose 5 cents on fruit pulp. Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Finance, said the real problem was that of concentrated grape juice, the duty on which was 23 1/2 per cent.
The proposal of 25 cents a gallon on grape juice would mean only 5 cents a gallon on the concentrate.

The growers, he said, felt they would be worse off under the specific rate than under the ad valorem. All the facts surrounding concentrated juice had not been learned, and until they were intelligent action was impossible, the Minister of Finance said. He promised to stimulate al inquiry.

CIDER INDUSTRY
Hon. R. B. Bennett spoke of the efforts made in British Columbia and

Nova Scotia to stimulate the Canadian market for cider. He did not believe that a free British preference would do this growing industry any good. The Minister of Finance disagreed, saying the Canadian appetite for cider was not keen, and imports had been negligible. There was a possibility that if British cider did come in, it might aid the Canadian industry through creating a demand.

The minister allowed to stand the item dealing with ground feldspar

NEWS IN BRIEF

Denial of the rumor that Vancouver restaurants had been given promise of permits for the sale of beer and light wines at table was made by Premier Tolmie when questioned on the subject yesterday.

A general meeting of Ward One Liberals will be held in the hall at the corner of Commercial and Broughton Streets, on Wednesday, May 28, at 8 p.m. The business will include the election of officers and all Liberals are requested to attend.

Directors of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, at their regular luncheon meeting in the Chamber dining-room to-morrow, will discuss, among other business, the summer steamer service to the Gulf Islands and the customs' inspection of visiting yachts.

In keeping with most other public institutions, to-morrow afternoon will be observed as a holiday at the City Hall. The building will close at 1 o'clock, releasing city workers in time to attend the school sports arranged for the afternoon at the Willows.

Although three tenders for the remodeling of Commercial police station were opened yesterday by W. S. Loughheed, Minister of Public Works, no award will be made until the department has looked into the matter. The bids were as follows: L. H. Finch, $1,296.90, with an alternative in the case of gyprock being used of $1,400.00; Muir and Hunter, $1,330.95, or gyprock, $1,380.95; Turner Bros., $1,400, or for gyprock $1,475.

The assistance of the authorities here was sought this morning by the Chief of Police of Windsor, Ont., in the search for Catherine C. McHugh, missing law secretary of that city. The woman, who is thirty-three years of age, five feet, four inches tall, and weighed about 115 pounds. She had blue eyes, and hair prematurely gray, was hunched and worn in pompadour style, with a slight wave. Her complexion was fair and her eyebrows heavy and dark.

CURRIE RECALLS TEACHING DAYS BOYS' CENTRAL

Sir Arthur Currie, commander of the Canadian Corps in France, now principal of McGill University, Montreal, and formerly a teacher in the Boys' Central School, is sending a special message to the old boys' reunion which will be staged here Friday and Saturday. It was announced to-day by 'Toots' Sylvester, organizing secretary of the celebration.

Sir Arthur has been in communication with Mr. Sylvester and his message will be delivered at the reunion banquet at the Empress Hotel to-morrow evening. Tickets for the banquet and dance to follow are being distributed old boys through the secretary's office at the Sylvester Feed Company.

The banquet programme includes addresses by Premier Tolmie, Ex-Principal J. D. Gillis, Dr. McMillan of Vancouver and Mayor Anson. Hon. Joseph Hinchliffe, Minister of Education, will deliver a prayer. Dorothy Hartree and Ernest Butterworth will be the soloists. Mrs. Andros of the Toronto Conservatory of Music the pianist, while Herbert Kent will lead the community singing of old songs of boyhood days. Miss Violet Powles and her pupils will deliver a series of special dances.

The banquet and entertainment arrangements are under Fred Waller, Robert Crawford, Charles McNeill, Harry Savage, R. Hiscocks and H. McNeill. A long dance programme has been prepared and introduces a number of dances popular when some of Victoria's solid-business men of to-day were youths.

Mrs. Alexander, who was chosen as official poet for the reunion and has been turning out commemorative verse for the occasion, has gathered the names of the most prominently known teachers of the Boys' Central School, which she proposes should be engraved on a tablet at the school to go down to future generations.

The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from McCall Bros. Funeral Home. Canon F. A. P. Chadwick will conduct the service after which interment will be made at Ross Bay Cemetery.

Many relatives and friends attended the funeral service yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Sands Funeral Chapel for Mrs. Winifred Frost, who passed away last Sunday morning. Jackson and A. P. Larson acted as pallbearers and the remains were laid to rest in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

There passed peacefully away at an early hour this morning at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, after a lengthy illness William Thomas Howard, aged seventy-two years. The late Mr. Howard was born at Rathdowney, County of Queens, Ireland, and came to Winnipeg, Manitoba, in 1881, later coming to this city where he had resided for eighteen years. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Margaret Howard, nee Simpson, 1228 Oscar Street; two daughters, Mrs. H. L. Benson, 607 Vancouver Street, and Mrs. W. B. Galbraith, Toronto, Ontario; one brother, George Howard, Winnipeg, Manitoba; a sister in New Zealand, and a sister in Ireland; also two grandchildren. The remains are resting at the S. J. SIGNED NOTES FOR FIVE CARS IN ONE YEAR

D. J. McKenzie and David Scott Committed For Trial With Stanley Wallis To-day

End of Police Court Proceedings So Far in Consolidated Motors Cases

Bringing an end to police court proceedings so far in the case of the Consolidated Motor (Victoria) Ltd. in which S. E. Wallis, the manager, and several other persons are charged with conspiracy to defraud, Wallis, with David Scott and D. J. McKenzie were this morning committed for trial by higher court.

Evidence that five conditional sales agreements on automobiles were signed by McKenzie in less than a year, and three by Scott in a year and a half, was introduced at the preliminary hearing before Magistrate George Jay. These agreements purported to be for the cars by D. J. McKenzie and Scott, and were discounted either with Douglas, Mackay & Company or with Heisterman, Forman & Company.

Scott and Wallis were charged in respect of an agreement dated December 30, 1929, discounted for $1,200 by Douglas, Mackay & Company. The charge against McKenzie and Wallis arose out of an agreement dated August 27, 1929, discounted with Heisterman, Forman & Company.

CAR IN EXISTENCE

According to the evidence of A. C. B. Pitts, accountant for Douglas, Mackay & Company who interviewed Scott prior to the laying of the charges, Scott said he did not realize what he was really doing when he signed the agreement. Wallis had pointed the car out to him and although he did not intend to buy it, he thought everything would be alright as long as the car was in existence.

Harold F. Hewlett, accountant for Heisterman, Forman, talked with McKenzie regarding the agreement which he admitted signing. McKenzie told him that he had intended buying a truck from Wallis, who asked him to sign an agreement before the truck could be obtained by the automobile firm. This had been done but later decided not to buy the truck, and did not bother to recover the agreement or his preliminary notes from Wallis, who had told him they would be destroyed.

CHANGED HIS MIND

In the evidence of the other witnesses it was said that in five different cases McKenzie said he had intended buying a motor vehicle from the firm and after signing the notes had changed his mind and failed to recover the notes.

Stuart Henderson appeared for Wallis and Scott. W. H. M. Haldane appeared for McKenzie. Claude L. Harrison prosecuted.

No defence evidence was entered and each of the accused was committed after brief consideration of the case by the magistrate.

Bail was set at $5,000 in two sureties of $1,500 each in both cases, on application later before the higher court by W. H. M. Haldane, on behalf of Scott and McKenzie, pending trial on the charge.

DAMAGE ACTION IS CONTINUING

Duncan and Port Alberni Principals Involved in $10,000 Suit in Supreme Court

Hearing continued before Mr. Justice Fisher in the Supreme Court to-day in the action of Peter McGovern against Emil Marais, a claim for $10,000 damages, and $470 special damages for an auto accident which occurred between Nanaimo and Port Alberni on July 28 last. R. D. Harvey and R. F. Bainbridge appear for the plaintiff, and E. V. Finland and Roy Munger for the defendant.

Additional evidence from a number of witnesses was heard during the afternoon session of the trial yesterday, and again this morning. The plaintiff claim serious injuries were received by him when the car in which he was riding left the road, and was wrecked on striking a tree stump. The defendant denies liability for the injuries received by the plaintiff, who, it is set up, was present voluntarily as a passenger in the car.

The hearing is expected to conclude this afternoon, after argument by counsel.

"Cappy" Goodlake Elected Member Of Rotary Club

T. J. "Cappy" Goodlake, for sixteen years the genial secretary of the Victoria Rotary Club, was made a regular member of the association at its special luncheon, aboard the Ss. Princess Elizabeth to-day.

As the members sat down to luncheon, ballroom sheets were passed around to them. Padre Montague W. J. Bruce rose to his feet and protested against an election. He proposed that "Cappy" be elected unanimously.

The members rallied and after singing "He's a Jolly Good Fellow" greeted the new member with three cheers.

Mr. Goodlake, one of the oldest Rotary secretaries on the coast, thanked the club in his usual droll manner.

CAPT. NEROUTSOS TELLS OF GROWTH OF COAST SERVICE

Speaks of New C.P.R. Vessels in Address Before Rotarians on Elizabeth

Great Increase in Mileage and Number of Employees Shown Since 1903

Briefly sketching the tremendous growth of the B.C. Coast Service of the C.P.R. during the last thirty years and outlining the specifications of the latest additions to the fleet, Captain C. D. Neroutsos, manager, addressed the Rotary Club at its meeting aboard the Ss. Princess Elizabeth to-day.

Captain Neroutsos spoke of the dimensions of the Princesses Elizabeth and Joan and invited the members to inspect the new ships. When they had done so, he felt sure they would agree with him that the present fleet would take care of the traffic between the mainland and the island for some years to come. If it did not, he added humorously, the company would think of building more ships.

In speaking of the new ships the Captain said that the decks of the vessels had been made out of British Columbia wood. The idea of building the two ships had been conceived by E. W. Beatty, K.C., president, and the directors, in 1928. At that time they had drawn up plans for the construction, the trials, delivery and the day on which the boats should be put into use, the speaker said.

ONLY DAY LATE

In spite of all delays, the ships had been put into operation only a day late, he added.

Captain Neroutsos traced the growth in mileage covered by the system, saying that in 1903, the year in which the Canadian Pacific took over the management of the service, it had a mileage of 160,963. At the close of 1929 this had been increased to 599,482, he stated.

Only 300 men had been in the employ of the coast service in 1903, while now 1,200 were on the payroll. Last year about $2,000,000 had been spent in payroll, equipment and stores.

President Alfred Carmichael thanked the speaker for his interesting talk. During the luncheon, Miss Merle North entertained the gathering with vocal solos.

REFORMED CHURCH JOINS FREE CHURCH

Philadelphia, May 22.—The Canadian Synod of the Reformed Episcopal Church in the United States and Canada received permission to-day from the general council, meeting here, to transfer its allegiance to the Free Church of Scotland.

The proposed transfer involves eight parishes with 864 members, most of them near Toronto.

The revised book of Common Prayer, with the word "obey" omitted from the "truth and promise" to be made by the woman in the marriage ceremony, was adopted yesterday.

LIBERAL TARIFF POLICY ANNOYS CONSERVATIVES

Hon. J. Hinchliffe and H. D. Twigg Speak to McBride Club on Question

Political issues in the Federal ring were discussed at the meeting of the McBride Conservative Club in the Conservative rooms yesterday evening by Hon. J. Hinchliffe, Minister of Education, and H. Despard Twigg, M.P.

Both speakers took exception with what they termed the "turn about" policy of the Liberal government with regard to the tariff, as instanced by countervailing duties fixed in the last budget.

There was need of protective tariffs for industries in the provinces, said the minister. No matter how much the provincial governments were urged to take new industries they could receive no protection from the Federal government. In this respect British Columbia was essentially interested because the province had largely along the line of industry, and it needed assistance from the Dominion government.

The protection issue would be one of the big questions at the polls at the coming Federal election, the minister said.

Mr. Hinchliffe took up the subject of old age pensions, suggesting that the Dominion, rather than the provinces, should bear the cost of this system. A man was paid a pension because he had done something to build up Canada as a whole, even if he lived in several of the provinces during his lifetime.

There was room for adjustment in other matters of a similar nature, he continued. If the Dominion were to decrease its collections on liquor, it might be possible to reduce prices in the provinces. Also the Dominion should leave the income tax field to the provinces instead of also levying the tax. It was the only form of profitable taxation left to the provinces.

BRICK FOR BRICK

Mr. Twigg spoke briefly on what he termed the new Liberal attitude on the Conservative "brick for brick" policy on tariff.

British Columbia, he said, faced a fight all on her own in the future. It was well impossible for the trade of British Columbia to meet that of the east on a competitive basis. She must look westward for her development.

Hugh Allan, president, occupied the chair, and thanked the speakers for their addresses.

SOUGHT TO TAX
INSURANCE ON SOLDIER POLICY

Supreme Court Rules Against B.C. Department of Finance

Vancouver, May 22.—Returned soldiers' insurance is not subject to succession duty, according to a Supreme Court decision of Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald.

The point was raised in the estate of Ian Dundas Todd, British Columbia Electric Railway Company engineer, who was killed at Ruskin on December 16. Todd left a net estate of $12,700, which included $4,470 of a $9,000 insurance policy issued by the Dominion of Canada under the Returned Soldiers' Insurance Act.

The Department of Finance, Victoria, taxed the insurance $233 for succession duty.

Appearing for the Department of Finance, Ed. J. Macdonald, departmental solicitor, argued that the only insurance which escapes succession duty is that left to a preferred beneficiary, such as wife, child, or parents. The insurance in question was left to the deceased man's brother.

His Lordship said that the Dominion Government provided the insurance free of cost for returned men, and he did not think those policies should be taxed for the benefit of the province.

"It may not be good law, but it is satisfied by conscience," remarked Mr. Justice McDonald.

VIEWS PLAN OF UNITED EUROPE

Britain Must Solve Questions Created By U.S. Strength, Say Melchett

London, May 22 (By Thomas T. Champion, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent).—The difficulties of an economic union of the British Empire are great, but they are small when compared to the bold and courageous ideal of a federated Europe, which M. Briand has set for his goal. In these words Lord Melchett, the former Sir Alfred Mond, great industrialist and a power in British politics, commented on the French Foreign Minister's crusade for a united continent.

Lord Melchett's expression of his views was confined largely to the British aspect of the question. "M. Briand's scheme," he declared, "marks a new world economic question for us: Shall Great Britain cut itself off from the Empire by treating herself as a European nation, or shall we, in conjunction with the rest of the Empire, put ourselves into a position to enter into the most friendly relations with both the United States and the continent?"

Lord Melchett said he had long ago pointed out that the position of the United States, as the largest and most powerful economic union of the world, must sooner or later bring about the necessity of closer co-operation among European industrial interests.

PLANE MODEL BUILDERS SET FOR BIG MEET

Many Prizes Up For Competition in Championship Contests Saturday

Rules Governing Different Trials Announced; Entries Must Be Filed Soon

Scores of models are expected to be put in flight at the Lansdowne airport on Saturday, when members of the Victoria Model Aircraft Club contest for the city championship. The first contest will commence at noon. Many worthwhile prizes, including a pennant for the flight which scores high aggregate, have been donated. Several substantial prizes, among which is included the "Victoria Challenge Cup," donated by Sydney Pickles for open competition in endurance, will also be at stake. This cup will be held by the winner for one year, and he will receive a small individual cup to keep permanently. This is the first time the cup has been competed for, and keen competition is expected.

Contestants will be allowed to enter planes of any dimensions for the local meet.

Following are the rules released by league officials to govern the meet on Saturday.

There will be no restriction on the design of the models. All models must be hand-launched and the only motive power will be that derived from the use of rubber bands.

The contest will be for duration. A contestant will be allowed a total of three official flights. He will be credited with the greatest elapsed time made in any one of his three flights.

A contestant will draw a number giving him his place in starting. The same will follow until the contestant has completed his three official flights. He will be allowed two minutes in which to launch his model. Should he fail to launch his model within the time allowed, he must withhold that official trial until the next time. He will be charged with a delayed flight. Any flight under fifteen seconds will not be official. These and delayed flights will be called unofficial flights. Three unofficial flights will constitute one official flight. The finishing time will be taken

Cars Must Not Park Along Parade Route

No parking of automobiles will be allowed along the route of the May 24 parade, it was announced today by Chief of Police John Fry. This rule must be observed from 5 o'clock on the morning of that day until after the parade has passed. The parade will start at the corner of Yates and Quadra streets, proceeding down Yates to Douglas to Humboldt to Government to Superior to Douglas to Beacon Hill Park, where it will disperse.

when the model first touches the ground after being launched or when it passes out of sight of the officials.

A contestant will be allowed a maximum of three models and may use any or all to complete any one of his three flights. The winner of first place will be the owner and builder of the plane which has remained in flight for the longest time. The plane must have been built by the owner, except for small metal fittings. No contestant will be allowed to compete unless he is a member of the Victoria Model Aircraft League. Non-members may join the league by getting in touch with the secretary, Bill Findley at 1208 Oscar Street, phone 22742, or T. Schmeider at the T.M.A.C. Below is the entry blank for the contests.

Quick Pile Relief

No Salves or Cutting

Pile sufferers can only get quick, safe and lasting relief by removing the cause—bad blood circulation in the lower bowel. Cutting and salves can't do this—an internal remedy must be used. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonard, succeeds, because it removes this blood congestion and strengthens the affected parts.

HEM-ROID tablets as sold by drug stores everywhere, have such a wonderful record for quick and lasting relief, that McParlane and Vancouver Drug Stores always sell them with guarantee of money-back if they do not and all Pile suffering.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

Wheat—The wheat market was taken out of the rut to-day and prices were advanced over to from the previous close. The chief feature was the report from several sections of the winter wheat belt, stating that the crop was very spotted with indications pointing to a little improvement on the wheat from the government report of May 1. This was further added to by the weather forecast of sharp frosts to-night, being fairly general over all parts of the territory and extending south into northern Kansas.

Prices were fractionally higher, based on the cables being firmer than during the first part of the season. Later there was some buying developed that was attributed to the fact that foreign account, and the local crowd were mostly taking in short wheat or going long, anticipating further crop damage reports to-morrow, more especially from frost.

About the only sellers were the pool, who were unloading July wheat on the scale up. The local cash market continued more or less quiet with offering nil. However, the demand was perhaps a little better from shippers who were anticipating a better foreign demand from the wheat. Spreads were unchanged to 1/4 better.

There were reports of large amounts of Canadian wheat to be shipped out of Montreal before June 1st. This could not be confirmed. Western Canada is now in exceptional shape in so far as moisture is concerned, heavy snows having fallen over the central and central Alberta and Saskatchewan during the last twenty-four hours.

Grain prices: These markets were all higher, and the trend of the wheat, but the trade volume was on the small side, with very little doing in the cash grain. Offerings were higher in the futures, and some short covering was in evidence.

Flax: This market was strong. There was some buying on the predicted frosts and offerings were light.

Are Women Mentally and Emotionally Fit to Serve On Juries?—Sage Advice to the Wife Who Would Keep Her Husband From Buying a Car

DEAR MISS DIX—What is your opinion on having women on juries? My husband and I have great arguments on this subject. He says women are too easily swayed by jealousy and pity to be allowed on a jury. He thinks it a crime to allow a woman on a murder jury, while I think differently.

My husband also says women have not sense enough to handle money and never gives me any. I was self-supporting before we were married five years ago, and I wish I was again. I think when men have such great opinions of themselves they should stay single, for it makes a home very unhappy for a wife to be made to feel that her husband considers her an ignoramus. It is for nothing but to cook and have children.

MARRIED WOMAN.

Answer: The universal testimony of the judges who have tried cases before mixed juries is that the women jurors are just as conscientious, just as intelligent, and that they are no more swayed by their emotions in bringing in a verdict than are the male jurors. So the wisdom of having women jurors is no longer a debatable question. It has been settled by actual experiment and proved a success. And that's that.

In strict justice every case involving both a man and woman should be tried by a jury of both sexes, because the law gives the accused individual a right to be tried by a jury of his peers and that would require both men and women to sit upon the case. For neither sex really understands the other sex. The cleverest man in the world doesn't know as much about women as the stupidest girl knows about them, nor can any woman enter into a man's mind and even guess what he would think or what he would do under certain circumstances, while any other man would know by instinct what impulses guided him.

Nor are women more emotional than men and more likely to let criminals go free. As a matter of record, men juries are sentimentality gone to seed, and all that young and pretty woman has to do is to roll her eyes at them and weep without her nose getting red to have them return a verdict of not guilty, no matter how cold-blooded a murder she may have committed.

That women know that women jurors would deal with them harder than men jurors do is proved by the fact that lady murderers not only never ask to be tried by a jury of their peers, but they fight to keep every woman off the jury that is to try them. They know that no woman juror would be swayed by their looks, nor consider that their having blonde hair with a lovely permanent wave in it and soulful blue eyes gave them the right to be bandits or shoplifters or to be human life.

Nor could a woman criminal float herself out of jail on her fears if a woman jury was sitting on her verdict, as she so often does with a man jury. Nor would a woman jury hand out thousands of dollars of heart balm to a woman who had carefully kept all of her love letters to use as evidence in a breach-of-promise suit.

Women are cold to each other's beauty, and wise to each other's tricks and manners, and they know their sex is not always so ignorant and innocent as it fools men into thinking it is.

And it is because women bring this intimate knowledge of their own sex to the juryroom that they are indispensable to the administration of justice.

As for your husband saying that women have not sense enough to handle money, that is merely his alibi for being a tightwad. You disproved that theory in your own case by supporting yourself before you were married. Perhaps there are not many women who are capable of being bank presidents and heads of investment companies and managing vast fortunes, but neither are there many men who are Napoleons of finance, and in handling small sums—and getting every cent out of a dollar, women far surpass men.

Women are closer buyers than men. They are keener bargain hunters and they keep a tighter grip on their pennies. No man can run a home on the amount that his wife does, as many a poor widower sadly realizes after the financial genius who ran his home has died. There are millions of just plain, ordinary, everyday women who perform miracles of economy every day that would entitle them to head a reparations committee.

But don't take your husband's strictures on women too seriously nor let them make you unhappy. It is only his poor, pitiful egotism that makes him want himself as your expense. He doesn't think you as big a fool as he pretends to, or else he would not have selected you for the mother of his children. And don't argue with him about whether men are so much superior to women or not. The best way to prove that you are broader and more intelligent than he is to refuse to discuss any subject that will precipitate a family quarrel.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—My husband works overtime and makes about $20 a week, with which he wants to buy a car. I have worked ever since I got married and saved every cent, but I want to furnish a home first and then think of a car. Which one of us is right?

JACK AND JILL.

Answer: I suppose the real, wise, practical thing would be to put your money in furniture instead of the car, because the furniture is something you really need, and which you would have for a long time, and which would require no upkeep, whereas the car would soon wear out and you would always have to be buying new tires and gasoline and paying out money for repairs.

But sometimes being prudent and practical and common-sensical isn't the wisest wisdom. Sometimes it is good for a wife to be a brake on her husband, but very often it isn't. Sometimes it is even better economy to spend than to save.

That sounds contradictory, but so is married life, and for every rule of conduct there are a hundred exceptions. That is what makes it so hard for a wife to know what to do and how to really help her husband along.

Of course, every woman wants a home of her own and she wants to have it nicely furnished, but she has to remember that this doesn't seem as important to her husband as it does to her, and that he doesn't get the sacred joy out of lace curtains and rugs and draperies and linoleum on the kitchen floor that she does.

Also, that when she forces him to sacrifice the things he wants for them he resents it and it makes a little bit of a rift between them. Many a wife alienates her husband by putting her house before him. Many a woman drives her husband away from home by nagging him about tracking in mud or smoking in the living-room.

So, considering all of these things, if Jack's heart is set on a car so much that he is working overtime to get it, I'd let the furniture wait and buy the car. I'd make him feel that I was a pal who wanted him to have all the pleasure he could instead of being a killjoy.

You can always buy furniture, but there is no way you can get back the comradeship of your husband if you have once lost it. No wives lose out so quickly with their husbands as those who are always saying "don't."

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I have been married four years and have a beautiful boy of two. My husband and I got along beautifully until the child was born, but ever since then I have found it impossible to make him happy. He hates the child and wants me to get rid of him by placing him in a home, but I refuse to do this. He will not let the child stay in the same room with him and gets angry if the baby sings or laughs or makes any noise. What in the world can I do?

UNHAPPY WIFE.

There is nothing that you can do except play for time. Evidently your husband is jealous of the baby, so do not devote all of your attention to the child and none for him. Go around with him as much as you can and try to make him realize that your love for the baby has not made you care less for him.

In time your husband will get over his unnatural attitude and he will become interested in the baby in spite of himself. Many men do not like little babies, but when the children begin to walk and are interesting they become devoted to them.

FIND POULTRY PAY

The importance of live stock in the establishment of a sound agriculture has long been recognized, and many farm families in western Canada are beginning to realize the lesson already learned in the east, that live stock is too important a farm adjunct to be overlooked. They are also beginning to realize the important part poultry plays in the general scheme of farm revenues. F. C. Elford, Dominion Poultry Hubandman, who has just returned from a trip through the west reports that many farmers are increasing their poultry flocks this year and that the demand for certified hatchery chicks has assumed unequalled proportions. Following the drought of last year and the almost complete crop failure in many sections, hundreds of farm families frankly admit that had it not been for the cash coming in from eggs and poultry they would not have been able to pull through.

SIX WEEKS' WORK IN DESERT COUNTRY TO GET COLISEUM FILM

"Desert Heroes," Universal's great human drama based on Peter B. Kyne's famous story, "Three Godfathers," is at the coliseum to-day. It is all talking and has a remarkable cast which includes Charles Hickford, Raymond Hutton and Fred Kohler in the roles of the "Three Godfathers" of Mr. Kyne's story.

OUTDOOR STORY AT CAPITOL THEATRE FOR REST OF WEEK

The amazing popularity of books by Zane Gray, Peter B. Kyne, Jean Straton Porter and others, who portray the life of the great outdoors is an explanation of the eagerness with which the American theatre-going public receives talking pictures taken in the open, and pictures—nature's stories in natural color photography. This is aptly demonstrated in "Under a Texas Moon," Warner Brothers first 100 per cent singing, talking outdoor picture in technicolor which is showing at the Capitol Theatre to-day, Friday and Saturday. Here a fast moving, romantic story of a Don Juan of pioneer days along the Mexican border, is immeasurably enhanced in beauty and interest because of the perfection of the reproduction of every hue and all in the pastel softness so restful to the eye.

Frank Fay as the gun-toting, love-making, fire-eating Don Corcoran, has one of the most interesting parts of the season and supporting him is a cast including: Raquel Torres, Noah Beery, Myrna Loy, Fred Kohler, George Stone, Armida, Tully Marshall, George Cooper and many others. Michael Curtis directed.

INTRODUCE WHITE CAP FAD IN FILM AT PLAYHOUSE NOW

White caps for men is the newest Hollywood wrinkle in summer headgear.

James Cruze, the director of "The Covered Wagon" and other notable photoplays, initiated the idea of immaculate headwear among directors and masculine film players. Mr. Cruze once wore a huge sombrero, riding breeches and leather puttees on the set and off, but the change in southern California's ozone dictated more comfortable clothing. With Mr. Cruze dresses entirely in white all year round, his friends and colleagues have thus far only adopted the white cap.

Mr. Cruze's first all-talking picture, "The Great Gabbo," starring Erich von Stroheim with Betty Compson, is now showing at the Playhouse Theatre.

MANY SONG HITS IN DOMINION ALL-STAR SCREEN PRODUCTION

Probably the greatest collection of new song hits ever gathered together in one sparkling screen production are being heard in Paramount's singing, dancing, laughing festival of the stars—"Paramount on Parade," which opened its three days' run at the Dominion Theatre to-day.

Two of the numbers, "Sweepin' the Clouds Away" and "Any Time's the Time to Fall in Love," are already sweeping the country via the radio. The former song is one of the Maurice Chevalier numbers in "Paramount on Parade"; the second is sung by Charles (Buddy) Rogers and Lillian Roth.

Jack Oakie and Zelma O'Neal sing "I'm in Training for You," another lively song hit, and the rousing ballad, "Let Us Drink to the Girl of My Dreams," is rendered by a world-famous group of actors, Richard Arlen, Mary Brian, Virginia Bruce, Gary Cooper, James Hall, Phillips Holmes, David Newell, Joan Peers and Fay Wray.

LAUGHS AND THRILLS GIVEN IN MELODRAMA AT COLUMBIA TO-DAY

A melodrama—three parts comedy, one part thrill, a romance and the breezy atmosphere of the sea is the composition of "You Know What Sailors Are," a Gaumont British film directed by Maurice Elvey, now being shown at the Columbia Theatre.

The story is that of a row which develops into a feud between the rival crews of British and Spanish cargo boats and is accentuated by the Spanish mate's jealous guarding of his shipper's daughter from the wandering gaze of the English mate. On a sea to London the Spanish ship catches fire and the tradition of the sea proves stronger than any feud—the British ship turns back to answer the SOS and give the two mates an opportunity of fighting for the hazard-

WELCOME FOR COL. MACNIDER

Hoover's Choice of Minister to Canada Gives Satisfaction

Ottawa, May 22.—"We are very pleased that the United States Government has appointed Lieut.-Col. MacNider as a successor to Mr. Phillips," commented Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King last evening. "We will give Col. MacNider a cordial welcome to the capital of Canada."

In announcing the selection, the White House said Colonel MacNider had long been interesting in the development of inland waterways, and would carry on the American-Canadian negotiations for expansion of the St. Lawrence waterway.

Colonel MacNider's services to his country in the Great War were recognized by three governments. The United States awarded him the Distinguished Cross with cluster, France made him a Commander of the Legion of Honor and awarded him the Croix de Guerre with five citations, and Italy pinned on his breast the Croce del Merito Guerra.

He entered the Coolidge administration as Assistant Secretary of War in October, 1925, serving until May 1, 1928.

Colonel MacNider's career as a business man and financier has been eminently successful. He is president of the First National Investment Company of Mason City, vice-president of the First National Bank and treasurer of Northwestern States Portland Cement Company.

In politics he has served as national chairman of the Republican Service League and was delegate-at-large to the Republican National Convention of 1924.
